Laurie Platkin, Procurement Specialist
City of Fort Lauderdale, 100 N. Andrews Ave., Fort Lauderdale, FL 33301

February 7, 2023

Dear Ms. Platkin & Evaluation Committee:

GovDeals is pleased to partner with WestWay Towing in submitting this proposal for full-service auctions to liquidate assets for the City of Fort Lauderdale.

Having thoroughly read your RFP for Auctioneer Services, we commend the City for understanding the most important aspects of choosing an auction service to dispose of the City's surplus assets: proven experience and knowledge resulting in delivering quality service.

After 21 years in the auction business and having worked with over 17,000 government agencies, the staff at GovDeals understands the importance of local bidders maintaining easy access to local auctions and effectively addressing space constraints. To meet the City's needs, GovDeals and WestWay Towing will provide full-service off-site auctions.

Here's how it works:

- GovDeals and our contracted local partner, WestWay Towing, will arrange transportation of the City's assets to WestWay's facility 6.5 miles (10 minutes) away from Fort Lauderdale's Public Works facility as frequently as needed.
- WestWay Towing will manage deidentification, decal removal, taking comprehensive pictures of each asset, completing GovDeals inspection forms, and meeting with buyers for bidding, inspection, and pick up.
- The City participates as much or as little as preferred in the auction process and maintains full control of how each auction is conducted (i.e minimum bids, reserve prices, restricted sales).
- Winning bidders pay for their purchases at GovDeals.com. GovDeals will collect payments from buyers, manage transactions for all parties involved, shoulder liability for fraudulent payments or chargebacks, and remit the City's auction proceeds on a weekly basis.

GovDeals and WestWay will partner with the City to enable effective management of your surplus assets. Your GovDeals Account Manager will be on-call 24/7, and our Accounting, Marketing, and Client Services teams stand ready to answer questions or provide solutions whenever an issue arises.

GovDeals' auctions have proven successful for nearly 600 government agencies in Florida, including Miami-Dade County, the City of Jacksonville, and U.S. Water Services, among many others. WestWay Towing currently serves more than 10 government towing contracts in Broward County, including for the City of Fort Lauderdale. Together, the GovDeals and WestWay teams are confident that our partnership will prove to be the best auction solution for the City.

The local service teams for GovDeals and WestWay are eager for an opportunity to provide the evaluation committee with an on-site or remote demonstration of the GovDeals system and discuss efficiencies this partnership will provide. Both of our organizations will work hard to exceed the City's expectations, and we will be individually and collectively accountable for making this happen if we are awarded as your Auction Services provider.

Very respectfully submitted,

Blake Jackson

4.2.2 Executive Summary

Each Offeror must submit an executive summary that identifies the business entity, its background, main office(s), and office location that will service this contract. Identify the officers, principals, supervisory staff, and key individuals who will be directly involved with the work and their office locations. The executive summary should also summarize the key elements of the proposal.

GovDeals and WestWay Towing are thoroughly prepared to immediately provide a robust full-service auction solution to the City of Fort Lauderdale. Dedicated staff members of GovDeals and WestWay will serve the City on a regular and ongoing basis through on-site and remote service, towing dispatch, auction consultations, marketing planning, and efficient payment collection and remittance.

GovDeals will provide the City with a turnkey approach to selling surplus through www.GovDeals.com with WestWay providing reliable transportation and storage of assets. Together, we will be responsible for taking photographs, creating auction listings, promoting the auctions, managing bidders, collecting payments, releasing assets to buyers, and remitting proceeds to the City.

If interested, the City will be trained to respond to bidder inquiries as well as accessing detailed reports of auction activities and revenue. The City may have unlimited user accounts, and access to the GovDeals system can be tailored to the job duties of City employees through the use of five security levels, including our “view only” setting that is useful for accounting staff to access sales and reconciliation reports.

GovDeals’ specialized auction website allows prospective buyers to view unlimited photographs, videos, thorough descriptions, ask questions, and enter bids for the City’s surplus property. The items will be auctioned under your Terms and Conditions, including City-dictated time frames for payment and pickup. Buyers will pay online at GovDeals.com and pick up their purchases at WestWay Towing’s facility.

GovDeals’ service includes, at no additional cost:

- Real-time reporting tools within secure account
- 4 million active GovDeals bidders – verified through GovDeals’ multi-layer registration process that includes vetting against the anti-terrorism watch list by E2Open’s global trade management software
- Personal service from a dedicated account team with 24/7 on-call availability
- Extensive marketing outreach to targeted bidders at GovDeals’ expense – this drives competitive bidding and increases the final selling price of auctioned assets!

GovDeals' Background

After 18 months of software development and testing, the first online auctions were conducted on GovDeals.com in early 2001. The company's earliest client sellers were pleased that GovDeals satisfied their compliance needs, and now the company had to prove that it could achieve equal or better sales results compared to traditional auctioneers.

GovDeals implemented innovative marketing techniques to reach targeted bidders specifically interested in purchasing government surplus assets. To this day, a major part of GovDeals' service and ultimate success is the promotion of assets through advertising and marketing. Every day, we spend significant effort and funding to maximize competitive bidding for our clients' assets, since competition for surplus assets is directly tied to the revenue generated. GovDeals' buyer audience has grown to approximately 4 million registered and verified active bidders, and our 12-person Marketing Department continues to expand this reach through targeted advertisements, press releases, and other promotion tools.

Through the technological innovations of the GovDeals platform and our robust marketing outreach, GovDeals consistently achieves higher net sales results for our clients when compared to our competition while also helping clients ensure transparency and compliance with surplus disposition policies every step of the way.

GovDeals was founded in 1999 and was acquired by Liquidity Services, Inc., in 2008. Headquartered in Bethesda, MD, Liquidity Services is a publicly held corporation with stock traded under the call letters LQDT on the NASDAQ stock exchange. Liquidity Services is a debt-free and financially strong corporation that operates several other reverse supply chain marketplaces in addition to GovDeals. Upon the acquisition, GovDeals quickly became one of Liquidity Services' flagship marketplaces as one of its most successful.

GovDeals has over 100 direct full-time employees, with more than half working remotely to best serve clients in their local areas. This includes two representatives to serve clients in Florida. In addition to this direct staffing, additional support and substantial resources come from our parent company.

Today, GovDeals has facilitated the sale of over 2.7 million assets/lots for over 17,000 clients with total auction sales surpassing $3.6 billion. In Florida alone, over 590 clients have successfully sold over 181,400 surplus assets/lots for total auction sales exceeding $243 million.

- More than 590 clients in Florida have found GovDeals.com to be the most efficient, effective way to dispose of surplus assets.
- These clients sold 181,000 surplus assets on GovDeals.com for total sales exceeding $243 million.

GovDeals' Sustainability Initiatives

GovDeals by design, is a sustainable green solution. GovDeals will support and provide ideas and solutions that will enhance sustainability initiatives in your surplus program.

We will help eliminate waste and defer goods from landfills by reselling your surplus assets to the public for recycling, reuse, and re-purpose as appropriate.

Items once destined for landfills can now be used to power small businesses or help realize entrepreneurial dreams or provide alternative choices to the general public. The return on your investment can enhance government operations and financial security as well as your commitment to sustainability with your partners at GovDeals.

For the items needing to be disposed, GovDeals will also provide a solution that is environmentally friendly.

Surplus management solutions don't just help you meet sustainability goals, they also generate profits and cost savings. The same proven sales processes and marketing solutions that continue to find new homes for surplus assets externally have also generated valuable monetary recovery for these items internally. The GovDeals Tiers system gives the City of Fort Lauderdale the option to easily redistribute assets amongst its various departments and saves tremendous capital by enabling avoiding purchasing new.

We've played an integral role in many of our clients' zero-waste initiatives and worked with the federal government to pioneer one of the largest green initiatives to date, deferring over three billion pounds of scrap material from landfills.

In addition, as a member of the American Public Works Association (APWA), we support their initiatives and efficient infrastructure as an environmentally and socially responsible long-term choice. We received an Honors Laureate Award from Computerworld in 2013 for the innovative sustainability programs implemented for clients.

4.2.4 Approach to Scope of Work

Provide in concise narrative form, your understanding of the City's needs, goals and objectives as they relate to the project, and your overall approach to accomplishing the project. Give an overview on your proposed vision, ideas, and methodology. Describe your proposed approach to the project.

The auction services described in the City's solicitation are a wonderful reflection of the only business we are in and have been continuously building, providing, and improving since 1999. GovDeals is thoroughly prepared to immediately provide our hands-on customer service to the City to meet its goals of increasing space utilization while efficiently attaining maximum liquidation value from sales of all surplus assets.

GovDeals and WestWay Towing's partnership is the most cost effective, conscientious, fully transparent, and risk-averse disposition method for the City. All control of the entire process remains right where it should be – within your agency. Together, we specialize in the towing, storage, and auction of vehicles and heavy equipment in all conditions, and our breadth of experience will undoubtedly lead to obtaining the highest possible sale price, including those that are unserviceable and/or accident damaged.

We particularly appreciate that the City prioritizes its future vendor's ability to maximize sale value of surplus assets through marketing, presentation, and outreach. We commend the City for recognizing the importance of contracting with a vendor that places a high level of emphasis on these factors, as we have learned over the past 21 years in the auction industry that bidder outreach is one of the keys to maximizing return on investment. The GovDeals marketing team averages nearly 3,000 advertisements, social media, and email promotions each month to support our government sellers' auctions – at no additional cost to them.

Commitment to Personal Service

Properly managing the sale of government assets and ensuring maximum ROI requires a great deal of knowledge and expertise.

GovDeals and our partner, WestWay Towing, will tow and store the City's surplus assets as frequently as the City will permit. The assets will be photographed at WestWay's facility and auction listings will be posted online. Bidders have the option to inspect and bid on units onsite at WestWay throughout the entire auction period if desired. Our service includes transport, storage, taking photos, writing descriptions, and posting surplus assets to our auction website, as well as monitoring active auctions, managing buyer appointments, collecting proceeds, shouldering liability for fraudulent payments and chargebacks, and remitting the City's proceeds weekly.

In addition to performing the day-to-day functions to conduct the City's surplus auctions, GovDeals will provide dedicated service for technical support and case-by-case strategy recommendations, including marketing, lotting strategies, and process improvement efforts.

We combine the hands-on service of GovDeals and WestWay Towing with GovDeals' easy-to-use website, a large and targeted bidder audience, knowledge of auction best practices, a robust marketing program, and a history of compliance with government requirements and regulations, to offer a service that is unequalled by other vendors.

Auction Timeline

The general timeline of the auction process is as follows:

When vehicles are deemed surplus for auction, the City should contact your GovDeals' Account Manager, Luciana Woodbury, to schedule transportation of your surplus vehicles from the City's premises to WestWay.

Upon arrival at the holding facility, Luciana will confirm with the City regarding the inventory of all surplus vehicles received.

After retrieving the assets requested, WestWay will manage de-identification/decal removal, take multiple photographs and videos of each surplus asset, and complete inspection forms.

Luciana will upload photos and all pertinent materials to the City's GovDeals account, and will use the asset inspection forms to post descriptions for each auction. Upon request, the City may review draft auctions before they are sent live.

For high-value and particularly specialized assets, a marketing plan will be developed by GovDeals' Marketing Department and, upon request, will be presented to the City for advance review and approval prior to auction. Marketing campaigns will run while the auction is open for bidding.

Auctions will open for bidding for 7-10 days, in most cases. While the auction is live, the City can monitor progress of its auctions at www.GovDeals.com. Luciana will monitor auctions for quality assurance. WestWay Towing will meet with bidders for inspection and bidding onsite.

After the auction has ended, the GovDeals platform will automatically generate a Seller's Certificate with details of the sale and contact information for the winning bidder; and the winning bidder will automatically be emailed award notification(s) with links to the Buyer's Certificates that include sale and payment details.

The winning bidder is responsible for making payment on GovDeals.com within 5 business days after auction close (this time period may be shortened or lengthened by the City if desired). Upon the buyer's successful payment by credit/debit card (Visa, MasterCard, Discover, and American Express are accepted), PayPal, or wire transfer, the City will receive notification that payment has been made along with the Bill of Sale.

The buyer is required to pick up assets within 10 business days after auction close (this time period may also be adjusted by the City if desired). The winning bidder is responsible for scheduling an asset removal appointment at WestWay's facility.

At pickup, the winning bidder must present their photo ID and Buyer's Certificate. After both the buyer and the City representative sign the GovDeals Bill of Sale, the asset may be released to the winning bidder. The signed Bill of Sale, and any other documentation as desired, may be uploaded to the closed auction for recordkeeping purposes. GovDeals will notify the DMV of the sale via form HSMV 82050 (example shown on Page 16). Filing this form with a motor vehicle service center will remove the seller's registration from the vehicle and help the seller avoid any civil liability for the operation of the motor vehicle after the sale. Once filed, it becomes the buyers' responsibility to apply for the title and registration before he/she can legally operate the motor vehicle. The form also documents the sale and is the legal receipt. GovDeals will ensure the Bill of Sale is signed and that a copy of this document is retained in the City's GovDeals account to prove ownership transfer.

After the asset is picked up from WestWay, WestWay will notify Luciana and GovDeals will remit payment for the asset. Assets marked "Picked Up" by Friday will be included in the next week's payment cycle.

GovDeals will electronically remit the balance to the City. GovDeals will also remit taxes to the appropriate taxing authorities.

The City's remittance payment may be sent to multiple accounts as desired, such as individual selling departments. Even if sent to a general fund, data can easily be separated out for auditing purposes using a department code, and all reports are exportable to Excel.

GovDeals accepts responsibility for chargebacks and fraud that may occur, so the City will not be liable for any payment disputes. GovDeals may request a copy of the signed Bill of Sale from the City in the case of a payment dispute after an asset has been removed by the buyer.

Custom Site/URL Options

Depending on the City's needs, GovDeals has several landing page/ URL options to best showcase your auctions, all at no additional cost:

- Custom URL: GovDeals can create an easy-to-use URL (website link) for the City's auctions, such as www.govdeals.com/FtLauderdale. This URL will display all of your current auctions. Your logo and custom information can be added to the site, and a link to this URL can be added to the City's website to drive bidder participation for your surplus sales. This option is available to all of our clients.
- Microsite: Utilization of GovDeals' microsite functionality will enable bidders to browse and search only the City's auctions. The microsite can be hosted on a custom URL as described above, complete with your logo and custom information displayed. The microsite option is most useful if the City consistently has items available at auction.

Regardless of whether a microsite or custom URL is utilized, the City's auction listings will also be available on GovDeals.com without need to navigate to the City's landing page. GovDeals' bidders may find your assets for sale in a variety of ways:

- On any search results or category page, a user may click the shortcut "View by same > Seller" to view all current auctions by that seller.
- On any listing, a user may click "View seller's other assets" to view all current auctions by that seller.
- In Classic Search or Advanced Search, a user may use the "Seller Name" dropdown menu to find the seller and view all of the seller's current auctions.
- If the above methods are not utilized, such as when a user visits the home page and clicks a category, the City's auctions will be integrated with all other current GovDeals auctions. Throughout our 21 years in this industry, GovDeals has found that integrating all assets to the main website facilitates an increase in an individual agency's bidder audience, which will foster an increase in ROI.

System Security & Reliability

GovDeals employs leading content delivery and security technologies to ensure the availability and protection of its services, along with the confidentiality and integrity of client data across our platforms.

These security precautions include:

- Web application firewall (WAF). A WAF protects our public facing web applications by filtering, monitoring, and blocking any malicious HTTP/S traffic traveling to them and prevents any unauthorized data from leaving the applications
- A content delivery network (CDN), a group of geographically distributed servers that delivers content from the network location closest to the user to speed up its delivery
- Systems hardware is deployed in a high availability configuration
- Routine patching of infrastructure components
- Real-time back-ups of our content to ensure continuation of service
- Geographic redundancy of critical data
- Active Vulnerability and Malware scanning
- Annual Third-Party Penetration testing
- Anti-virus
- Consolidated logging with active threat monitoring

GovDeals takes the protection of your data seriously and employs the following encryption protocols:

- Data is encrypted while in transit (Transport Layer Security (TLS) 1.2 or greater)
- Data is encrypted while at rest, our Storage Service Encryption uses 256-bit Advanced Encryption Standard (AES)
- Credit card information is fully tokenized

The GovDeals system and website exist in a fully redundant environment. The site is load-balanced across multiple servers. The infrastructure is hosted on the Microsoft Azure cloud platform, which supports our redundancy and scalability goals. All critical auction and customer data is fully replicated.

GovDeals utilizes multiple internal and external site monitoring systems to ensure appropriate responses to any warnings, critical issues, or other matters that need immediate attention 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, and 365 days a year.

As with all e-commerce platforms, maintenance downtime is periodically required to upgrade existing software and services, maintain the security and availability of the platform, as well as to deploy new application features. Planned maintenance is performed when traffic to the website is minimal. All maintenance and upgrades to the GovDeals systems and services are managed by the GovDeals technology team and automatically delivered for the term of the contract at no additional cost to the Agency.

In the rare event an unplanned website outage occurs, the GovDeals system can extend auctions, for a period agreed upon by the selling agency or withdraw the assets from auction and repost them if so desired. In either case, automatic system notifications will be emailed to any bidders and watchers of the auctions affected, letting them know the change in auction schedule.

GovDeals' Account Managers are also directly involved in ensuring their clients' auctions are restored accurately by the GovDeals system. Your Account Manager will work with you directly as soon as feasibly possible to resolve any issue that may arise from system downtime.

In addition, GovDeals' U.S.-based Bidder Services Help Desk will receive and processes all bidder calls, including those about system or technical issues. If the influx of bidder calls causes the Bidder Services Help Desk phone lines to be busy, calls are automatically redirected to our Client Services Help Desk, which is trained to support bidders in these cases. Therefore, in no instance should bidders need to contact the Agency due to website disruptions, should such an event occur.

Detailed Reporting to Ensure Compliance with the City's Surplus Policy

Through GovDeals' robust platform, your procurement department and end users will have full transparency through secure auditable reporting of surplus sale items, the number of bids received, date and time of each bid, and the names of winning bidders, as well as cumulative data in any date range chosen.

These real-time reports will provide purchasing officials with peace of mind that their processes are indeed compliant with their surplus disposition policies. Additionally, the most recent 12 months of GovDeals' auction results may be viewed by anyone searching at GovDeals.com, providing transparency to the general public.

GovDeals will record all bids and provide real-time reporting and summary reports within your account. Users will have 24/7 access to an array of real-time reports, as well as the ability to view a detailed bid history and audit trail of all the City's auctions at any time during the auction or after its close, without expiration or archiving.

GovDeals' interactive reports are accurate and detailed, enabling the City to track all assets from the time they are loaded into the GovDeals system until they are sold and proceeds are collected. GovDeals' reports can be viewed online, sorted, printed, and/or exported to Microsoft Excel. Many reports can be customized to unique needs the City may have. Whether under contract with GovDeals or not, you will continue to have perpetual access to its GovDeals reports without limitation or expiration – ever.

Bidder Audience / Percentage of “Regular” Buyers

GovDeals has bidders in all 50 U.S. states and in 160 foreign countries for a total of nearly 1.3 million registered and verified bidders. Of these total bidders, 22.4% are considered to be ‘regular’ bidders. For a more in-depth look at our bidder activity, see below:

GovDeals Drives Success for Our Clients by Attracting the Right Bidders

When evaluating auction vendors, you may be under the impression having the most bidders is what makes an auction company the best choice. While we agree that having a large bidder audience is essential to a successful auction platform, it’s also true that a vendor could have millions of bidders and still not be able to drive sales results.

This discrepancy can be caused by requiring website visitors to register as a bidder in order to simply browse auction listings (as many of our competitors do), resulting in numerous “registered bidders” who never had any intention of bidding. Additionally, some auction providers will use their parent company’s bidder count to claim a large audience, but this does not accurately reflect the auction provider’s true audience. Likewise, GovDeals’ parent company has over 3 million bidders, but not all of these bidders participate in GovDeals’ auctions.

The metric that really matters is the number of bidders who participate in auctions and make purchases. Take a look below at the GovDeals sales statistics from the past 12 months:

Total Number of Registered & Verified Bidders	1,282,749
Number of Participating Bidders	148,518
Total Bids Placed	5.3 million
Number of Successful Auctions	316,046
Total Sales	$547 million

Although GovDeals has nearly 1.3 million registered and verified bidders, and even though GovDeals does not require website visitors to register in order to browse, internal data shows that a fraction of GovDeals’ registered bidders placed a bid during the past 12 months. Just over 148,500 people placed bids, resulting in the sale of 316,000 liquidated assets. That’s 2.1 auctions won per participating bidder – including bidders who placed bids but did not win.

The statistic is surprising, proving that the key to success is attracting the right bidders:

- The right bidders will bid again and again and will buy again and again.
- The right bidders visit the auction site day after day, eager to bid on and buy government surplus assets in a variety of categories.
- The right bidders will set up “favorites” to be alerted when auctions are posted matching the types of assets they are looking to buy.
- The right bidders pay on time and pick up on time, reducing instances of default to the lowest in the industry (3%-4%).
- The right bidders buy from GovDeals because we offer the best marketplace for sellers and buyers.

After 22 years in the auction industry, GovDeals has the experience and expertise to reach the right bidders. While there may be competitors who claim to have more bidders than GovDeals, our record of success proves that reaching quality bidders is what makes the difference in a government’s consistently successful surplus disposition program.

Helpful Bidder Features

- Email Notifications: GovDeals' bidders may elect to receive email notifications when they have been outbid on an auction, as well as when an asset is posted matching the bidder's selected "favorites" (described below). Winning bidders will always receive automatic email notification of auction award.
- Favorites: GovDeals' "favorites" feature allows bidders to be notified by email when new items from any selected category or search criteria are sent to auction. Examples of favorites could include heavy equipment auctioned in Florida; Ford trucks within 50 miles of Fort Lauderdale; or all assets auctioned by the City.
- Proxy Bid (Auto Bid): The GovDeals auction system includes an optional proxy bidding (Auto Bid) feature that enables bidders to enter the maximum price they are willing to pay, and the auction system will automatically place incremental bids until the bidder's maximum bid is reached, or until the asset is won. The bidder can choose to receive email notification if outbid.
- Identity Protection: GovDeals provides security, antivirus, and firewalls to prevent hacking of any auction information from the servers, and to prevent any bidder from learning the identity of another bidder. Also, GovDeals is PCI-compliant and does not store buyers' payment information.
- Bidder Support: GovDeals provides bidder support from a dedicated, U.S.-based service center staffed by 15 experienced GovDeals employees. Bidder support is available by live chat, email, and toll-free phone Monday-Friday from 8am-7pm EST, as well as Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) available on GovDeals.com. The Bidder Services Help Desk receives more than 600 calls, emails, and live chats daily, and this team has a stellar 97% first-call resolution rate. The Bidder Services team endeavors to respond to bidder inquiries immediately, or as quickly as possible (in no more than one business day for non-urgent matters). The Bidder Services Help Desk has employees who are fluent in Spanish, and we have a language service available if we need assistance communicating with a prospective bidder who does not speak English or Spanish.

Website Traffic Comparison

According to independent, third-party measurement tools, GovDeals.com consistently has the highest web traffic of any national or regional government online auction provider. We encourage the evaluation committee to review the below data from Similar Web, an independent analysis company, showing web traffic for the past two years for GovDeals.com and our competitors.

Independent Website Traffic Analysis of Government Auction Services

The data above, provided by industry-leading website traffic analyst SimilarWeb, indicates website monthly visitors for each of 24 months, from Jan 2021 to Dec 2022, for the websites listed in the chart above. Data shown may not exactly match individual internal traffic measurement tools; however, all websites listed undergo the same evaluation techniques, resulting in fair comparison methods.

Marketing Outreach to Bring the Highest ROI

A major part of GovDeals' service and ultimate success is the promotion of assets through advertising and marketing. We expend significant effort and funding to maximize competitive bidding for our clients' assets, since competition for surplus assets is directly tied to the revenue the selling governments obtain for these assets. The City will not be charged a fee for any marketing efforts provided by GovDeals. Our marketing team averages nearly 3,000 advertisements, social media, and email promotions each month to support our government sellers' auctions – at no additional cost to them.

Our time-tested and proven approach to marketing government surplus goods for auction is unparalleled. We know from research and experience how to develop and implement customized marketing plans for our government clients, and our 12-person Marketing Department has the expertise to create effective ads, press releases, mailings, etc., and utilize the right combination of these in order to consistently bring a steady stream of targeted website traffic to our government clients' surplus assets.

As marketing plans are developed for the City's assets, your GovDeals Account Manager and our Marketing Department will communicate regularly with your team to ensure the City is always involved in decision-making, such as approving ads or press releases.

Overview of Marketing Strategies

- ❖ Niche Marketing: Running/valuable vehicles, heavy equipment, unique, and high-value assets that the City wishes to sell on the GovDeals auction website will be advertised or listed on niche websites that will expose your assets to targeted buyers. For example:
 - Heavy trucks and highway equipment are advertised in Commercial Truck Trader, Equipment Trader, and www.MyLittleSalesman.com, as well as other trade publications.
 - Cars, trucks, and vans are advertised at www.CarDaddy.com.
 - Medical and laboratory items are promoted at www.DotMed.com, www.LabX.com and www.EquipMatching.com.
 - Transit and school buses are advertised at www.BusesOnline.com and www.BusNut.com.
 - Garbage trucks are advertised at www.TrashTrucksOnline.com, and fire trucks, ambulances, and other rescue equipment are advertised on www.1stResponder.com.
- ❖ Email Marketing to Targeted Bidders: GovDeals has bidders in all 50 U.S. states and in 160 foreign countries for a total of over 1 million registered and verified bidders. We have nearly 62,000 active bidders in Florida, and over 44,400 within 250 miles of Ft. Lauderdale (see maps on the following page). With our parent company's sister marketplaces and shared bidder base included, your auctions will have access to a bidder audience of approximately 4 million potential buyers.

To harness the strength of this extensive bidder base for asset marketing, email blasts (e-Flyers) are sent to previous bidders and buyers of relevant categories. This has repeatedly proven one of our most successful marketing strategies.
- ❖ Local Marketing: As shown on the maps on this page, GovDeals already has a large and active bidder base in the Fort Lauderdale area. In order to further make local residents aware of the City's auctions, GovDeals' Marketing Department will implement strategies to inform the public of the City's GovDeals auctions, including preparing press releases and placing ads as needed. Strategic marketing efforts, such as outdoor signage and public access TV ads, may be utilized as needed. GovDeals can also provide outdoor banners for high-traffic areas, as well as flyers for bulletin boards and to pass out to local businesses and residents.

- ❖ Notifying Your Previous Bidders: If desired by the City, GovDeals will notify the City's previous auction and/or sealed bid participants that the City is now selling surplus on GovDeals.com. This can be accomplished by postcard or email blast, depending on the City's wishes and the contact methods available to reach past participants.

- ❖ Custom Marketing Plans: When the City has specialty assets to auction, GovDeals' Marketing Department will develop custom promotion and advertising strategies designed to bring the highest dollar amount possible for each asset. Various types of assets considered unique, high-value, or specialty may be considered for this custom marketing, which involves identification of target audiences and niche media.

Such assets may include, but are not limited to, helicopters and aircraft; classic/custom automobiles; specialty equipment; firearms and accessories; jewelry and collectibles; real estate properties; machinery and industrial equipment; and cost avoidance/demolition projects.

- ❖ News Coverage: GovDeals periodically receives local, regional, and national broadcast and print media coverage. This not only results in promotion for specific assets, but also drives bidder sign-up. For example, a news report by MSN Money resulted in a 250% increase in daily registrations.

A. Bidder will provide the last two years of vehicle and equipment sales itemized by vehicles/equipment classification. Include vehicle/equipment make, model, year, date sold and sale amount.

In 2021 and 2022, GovDeals sold over 104,900 vehicles and nearly 20,000 pieces of heavy equipment. As the data for all of these assets would be overwhelming, we've provided the requested information just for the state of Florida and uploaded as a separate Excel file in the Attachment section of the Infor portal.

In the report, we have provided the link to the GovDeals auction webpage for each asset sold to demonstrate a fraction of our capabilities in transparently and accurately reporting auction and asset data.

Our sales results are never influenced by shill bidding and GovDeals employees are forbidden from participating in any auction conducted on GovDeals.com.

4.2.7 Minority/Women (M/WBE) Participation

If your firm is a certified minority business enterprise as defined by the Florida Small and Minority Business Assistance Act of 1985, provide copies of your certification(s). If your firm is not a certified M/WBE, describe your company's previous efforts, as well as planned efforts in meeting M/WBE procurement goals under Florida Statutes 287.09451.

Liquidity Services Operations LLC (GovDeals) is not a certified M/WBE firm.

Whenever a new opportunity for subcontracting arises, GovDeals makes a good faith effort to first seek qualified vendors in disadvantaged business categories. This is true in Florida and nationwide. We have developed partnership agreements with diverse/disadvantaged businesses for multiple business opportunities and government contract solicitations.

Although our partner for this project, WestWay Towing, Inc., is not a certified M/WBE, the Broward County company is a small business with one location in Fort Lauderdale, which is another disadvantaged business category that we prioritize working with.

4.2.8 Subcontractors

Proposer must clearly identify any subcontractors that may be utilized during the term of this contract.

GovDeals' Partnership with WestWay Towing, Inc.

After more than 21 years in the government-exclusive auction industry, GovDeals understands that government agencies have varying needs based on a multitude of factors, such as staffing levels, storage space, and unique statutory requirements.

In order to help our clients liquidate their surplus assets despite complexities, we build partnerships with local businesses to provide reliable towing and secure storage of assets. Our partner in Fort Lauderdale is WestWay Towing, Inc., a proven successful vendor for the City of Fort Lauderdale and 10 other government agencies in Broward County.

WestWay will tow the City's assets as frequently as the City will allow, and will securely store the vehicles and equipment at WestWay. Your GovDeals and WestWay account team will be responsible for photographing assets, posting auction listings, promoting the auctions, monitoring the sales to ensure best industry practices, overseeing payment, and meeting with buyers for inspection, onsite bidding, and pick up. GovDeals will remit proceeds to the City on a weekly basis, while also shouldering liability for fraudulent payments or chargebacks.

The City's account will be managed by your local Account Manager, Luciana Woodbury, with 24/7 on-call service to the City for questions, assistance loading auctions, best practices guidance, and general support.

GovDeals' partnership with companies like WestWay has proven beneficial to our government clients because it enables cities like yours to reap the benefits of the modern GovDeals' platform and our expansive bidder base, while clearing your asset holding lots and not requiring winning bidders to visit the City's premises to pick up their assets won at auction.

NOTE: WestWay Towing, Inc. is a Class B Local Business. A Local Preference Certification Statement is included.

SERVICE ORGANIZATION CONTROLS

The Contactor should provide a current SSAE 18, SOC 2, Type I report with their proposal. Awarded Contractor will be required to provide an SSAE 18, SOC 2, Type II report annually during the term of this contract. If the Contractor cannot provide the SSAE 18, SOC 2, Type I report at time of proposal submittal, a current SOC 3 report will be accepted.

With our proposal, GovDeals is providing the SSAE 18, SOC 2, Type II report of the company's hosting provider, Microsoft Azure. All of Liquidity Services/GovDeals' applications and data are located with this provider.

Liquidity Services is currently in the process of obtaining its own SOC 2, Type I report, which will cover the application/databases and corresponding Liquidity Services control framework. We are working with our audit partner (Grant Thornton) on this initiative, and we will provide this document to the City of Fort Lauderdale immediately upon completion. Once the SOC 2, Type I report is obtained, our company will pursue an annual SOC 2, Type II report.

Due to its file size, the SOC 2, Type II report is provided as a separate attachment.

Microsoft Corporation

Scope

We have examined the description of the system of Microsoft Corporation (the "Service Organization" or "Microsoft") related to in-scope services and offerings for Microsoft Azure, Microsoft Dynamics 365, and Microsoft datacenters ("Azure") in Section III of the report for the Azure and Azure Government cloud environments¹, for processing user entities' transactions throughout the period April 1, 2021 to March 31, 2022 (the "Description"), and the suitability of the design and operating effectiveness of controls included in the Description to achieve the related control objectives also included in the Description, based on the criteria identified in Section II (the "Assertion"). The controls and control objectives included in the Description are those that management of Microsoft believes are likely to be relevant to user entities' internal control over financial reporting and the Description does not include those aspects of the system of Microsoft that are not likely to be relevant to user entities' internal control over financial reporting.

The information included in Section V, "Supplemental Information Provided by Microsoft" that describes the Service Organization's Compliance, Infrastructure Redundancy and Data Durability, Data Backup and Recovery, E.U. Data Protection Directive, Additional Resources, Management's Response to Exceptions Noted, and User Entity Responsibilities, is presented by management of the Service Organization to provide additional information and is not a part of the Service Organization's description of its system made available to user entities during the period April 1, 2021 to March 31, 2022. The information included in Section V has not been subjected to the procedures applied in the examination of the description of the system and of the suitability of the design and operating effectiveness of controls to achieve the related control objectives stated in the description of the system and, accordingly, we express no opinion on it.

The Description indicates that certain control objectives specified in the Description can be achieved only if complementary user entity controls contemplated in the design of the Service Organization's controls are suitably designed and operating effectively, along with related controls at the Service Organization. Our examination did not extend to such complementary user entity controls and we have not evaluated the suitability of the design or operating effectiveness of such complementary user entity controls.

Service Organization's Responsibilities

In Section II of the report, the Service Organization has provided an assertion about the fairness of the presentation of the Description and the suitability of the design and operating effectiveness of the controls to achieve the related control objectives stated in the Description. The Service Organization is responsible for preparing the Description and its assertion, including the completeness, accuracy, and method of presentation of the Description and the assertion, providing the services covered by the Description, specifying the control objectives and stating them in the Description, identifying the risks that threaten the achievement of the control objectives, selecting the criteria stated in the assertion, and designing, implementing, and documenting controls that are suitably designed and operating effectively to achieve the related control objectives stated in the Description.

Service Auditor's Responsibilities

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the fairness of the presentation of the Description and on the suitability of the design and operating effectiveness of the controls to achieve the related control objectives stated in the Description, based on our examination. Our examination was conducted in accordance with attestation standards established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants ("AICPA") and International Standard on Assurance Engagements 3402, Assurance Reports on Controls at a Service Organization, issued by the International Auditing and Assurance Standards Board, and standard 951 established by the Institut der Wirtschaftsprüfer. Those standards require that we plan and perform the examination to obtain reasonable assurance about whether, in all material respects, based on the criteria in management's assertion, the Description is fairly presented, and the controls were suitably designed and operating effectively to achieve the related control objectives stated in the Description throughout the period April 1, 2021 to March 31, 2022. We believe that the evidence we obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

An examination of a description of a service organization's system and the suitability of the design and operating effectiveness of controls involves:

- Performing procedures to obtain evidence about the fairness of the presentation of the Description and the suitability of the design and operating effectiveness of the controls to achieve the related control objectives stated in the Description, based on the criteria in management's assertion.
- Assessing the risks that the Description is not fairly presented and that the controls were not suitably designed or operating effectively to achieve the related control objectives stated in the Description.
- Testing the operating effectiveness of those controls that management considers necessary to provide reasonable assurance that the related control objectives stated in the Description were achieved.
- Evaluating the overall presentation of the Description, suitability of the control objectives stated therein, and suitability of the criteria specified by the service organization in its assertion.

Service Auditor's Independence and Quality Control

We have complied with the independence and other ethical requirements of the Code of Professional Conduct established by the AICPA. We applied the statements on quality control standards established by the AICPA and accordingly maintain a comprehensive system of quality control.

Inherent Limitations

The Description is prepared to meet the common needs of a broad range of user entities and their auditors who audit and report on user entities' financial statements and may not, therefore, include every aspect of the system that each individual user entity may consider important in its own particular environment. Because of their nature, controls at a service organization may not prevent, or detect and correct, all misstatements in processing or reporting transactions. Also, the projection to the future of any evaluation of the fairness of the presentation of the Description, or conclusions about the suitability of the design or operating effectiveness of the controls to achieve the related control objectives, is subject to the risk that controls at a service organization may become ineffective.

Description of Tests of Controls

The specific controls tested, and the nature, timing, and results of those tests are listed in Section IV of the report.

Opinion

In our opinion, in all material respects, based on the criteria described in the Service Organization's assertion in Section II of the report:

- a. The Description fairly presents the system related to Microsoft's in-scope services and offerings, for Azure and Azure Government cloud environments, that was designed and implemented throughout the period April 1, 2021 to March 31, 2022.
- b. The controls related to the control objectives stated in the Description were suitably designed to provide reasonable assurance that the control objectives would be achieved if the controls operated effectively throughout the period April 1, 2021 to March 31, 2022, and user entities applied the complementary controls assumed in the design of the Service Organization's controls throughout the period April 1, 2021 to March 31, 2022.
- c. The controls operated effectively to provide reasonable assurance that the control objectives stated in the Description were achieved, throughout the period April 1, 2021 to March 31, 2022, if complementary user entity controls assumed in the design of Service Organization's controls operated effectively throughout the period April 1, 2021 to March 31, 2022.

Restricted Use

This report, including the description of tests of controls and results in Section IV of the report, is intended solely for the information and use of management of the Service Organization, user entities of the Service Organization's system related to Microsoft's in-scope services and offerings, for Azure and Azure Government cloud environments during some or all of the period April 1, 2021 to March 31, 2022, and their auditors who audit and report on such user entities' financial statements or internal control over financial reporting and have a sufficient understanding to consider it, along with other information including information about controls implemented by user entities themselves, when assessing the risks of material misstatement of user entities' financial statements. This report is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Section II: Management's Assertion

Section II: Management's Assertion

We have prepared the description of the system of Microsoft Corporation (the "Service Organization" or "Microsoft") relating to in-scope services and offerings for Microsoft Azure, Microsoft Dynamics 365, and Microsoft datacenters for Azure and Azure Government cloud environments (the "Description"), for user entities during some or all of the period April 1, 2021 to March 31, 2022², and their user auditors who have a sufficient understanding to consider it, along with other information, including information about controls implemented by user entities of the system themselves, when assessing the risks of material misstatements of user entities' financial statements.

The Description indicates that certain control objectives specified in the Description can be achieved only if complementary user entity controls assumed in the design of Microsoft's controls are suitably designed and operating effectively, along with related controls at the Service Organization. The Description does not extend to controls of the user entities.

Description Criteria

We confirm, to the best of our knowledge and belief, that:

1. The Description fairly presents the Azure system made available to user entities of the system during some or all of the period April 1, 2021 to March 31, 2022, for processing their transactions. The criteria we used in making this assertion were that the Description:
 - a. Presents how the system made available to user entities was designed and implemented to process relevant transactions, including, if applicable:
 - i. The types of services provided including, as appropriate, the classes of transactions processed.
 - ii. The procedures, within both automated and manual systems, by which those services are provided, including, as appropriate, procedures by which transactions are initiated, authorized, recorded, processed, corrected as necessary, and transferred to the reports and other information prepared for user entities of the system.
 - iii. The information used in the performance of procedures, including, if applicable, related accounting records, whether electronic or manual, and supporting information involved in initiating, authorizing, recording, processing, and reporting transactions; this includes the correction of incorrect information and how information is transferred to the reports and other information prepared for user entities.
 - iv. How the system captures and addresses significant events and conditions.
 - v. The process used to prepare reports or other information provided to user entities of the system.
 - vi. Services performed by a subservice organization, if any, including whether the carve-out method or the inclusive method has been used in relation to them.

² In-scope services and offerings and coverage periods are defined in the Azure and Azure Government Report Scope Boundary and Internal Supporting Services subsections in Section III of this SOC 1 report. In-scope datacenters, edge sites, and coverage periods are defined in the Regions Covered by this Report subsection in Section III of this SOC 1 report.

vii. The specified control objectives and controls designed to achieve those objectives, including, as applicable, complementary user entity controls assumed in the design of the Service Organization's controls.

viii. Other aspects of our control environment, risk assessment process, information and communications (including the related business processes), control activities, and monitoring activities that are relevant to the services provided.

b. The Description includes relevant details of changes to Microsoft's system during the period covered by the Description when the Description covers a period of time.

c. The Description does not omit or distort information relevant to the Service Organization's system, while acknowledging that the Description is prepared to meet the common needs of a broad range of user entities of the system and their user auditors and may not, therefore, include every aspect of the system that each individual user entity of the system and its auditor may consider important in its own particular environment.

2. The controls related to the control objectives stated in the Description were suitably designed and operated effectively throughout the period April 1, 2021 to March 31, 2022, to achieve those control objectives provided that user entities applied the controls contemplated in the design of the Service Organization's controls. The criteria we used in making this assertion were that:

a. The risks that threaten the achievement of the control objectives stated in the Description have been identified by Microsoft.

b. Controls identified in the Description would, if operating as described, provide reasonable assurance that those risks would not prevent the control objectives stated in the Description from being achieved.

c. The controls were consistently applied as designed, including whether manual controls were applied by individuals who have the appropriate competence and authority.

Overview of Operations

Business Description

Azure

Microsoft Azure is a cloud computing platform for building, deploying and managing applications through a global network of Microsoft and third-party managed datacenters. It supports both Platform as a Service (PaaS) and Infrastructure as a Service (IaaS) cloud service models, and enables hybrid solutions that integrate cloud services with customers' on-premises resources. Microsoft Azure supports many customers, partners, and government organizations that span across a broad range of products and services, geographies, and industries. Microsoft Azure is designed to meet their security, confidentiality, and compliance requirements.

Microsoft datacenters support Microsoft Azure, Microsoft Dynamics 365, and Microsoft Online Services ("Online Services"). Online Services such as Intune, Power BI, and others are Software as a Service (SaaS) services that leverage the underlying Microsoft Azure platform and datacenter infrastructure. See section titled 'Azure and Azure Government Report Scope Boundary' for the Microsoft Azure services and offerings and Online Services that are in scope for this report.

Dynamics 365

Dynamics 365 is an online business application suite that integrates the Customer Relationship Management (CRM) capabilities and its extensions with the Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) capabilities. These end-to-end business applications help customers turn relationships into revenue, earn customers, and accelerate business growth.

"Azure", when referenced in this report, comprises of "Microsoft Azure", "Microsoft Dynamics 365", "Online Services", and the supporting datacenters listed in this report.

Control Environment

Integrity and Ethical Values

Corporate governance at Microsoft starts with an independent Board of Directors that establishes, maintains, and monitors standards and policies for ethics, business practices, and compliance that span across the company. Corporate governance at Microsoft serves several purposes:

1. To establish and preserve management accountability to Microsoft's owners by appropriately distributing rights and responsibilities among Microsoft Board members, managers, and shareholders
2. To provide a structure through which management and the Board set and attain objectives and monitor performance
3. To strengthen and safeguard a culture of business integrity and responsible business practices
4. To encourage efficient use of resources and to require accountability for stewardship of these resources

Further information about Microsoft's general corporate governance is available on the Microsoft public website.

Microsoft Standards of Business Conduct

The Microsoft Standards of Business Conduct (SBC) reflect a commitment to ethical business practices and regulatory compliance. They summarize the principles and policies that guide Microsoft's business activities and provide information about Microsoft's Business Conduct and Compliance Program. SBC was developed in full consideration of Sarbanes-Oxley Act (SOX) and proposed NASDAQ listing requirements related to codes of conduct. Additional information about Microsoft's SBC is available on the Microsoft public website.

Training

Annual SBC training is mandatory for all Microsoft employees and contingent staff. The SBC training includes information about Microsoft corporate policies for conducting business while conforming to applicable laws and regulations. It reinforces the need for employees to work with integrity and to comply with the laws of the countries in which Microsoft operates. It also guides employees and contingent staff on the processes and channels available to report possible violations or to ask questions.

Accountability

All Microsoft and contingent staff are accountable for understanding and adhering to the guidance contained in the Microsoft Security Policy, and any applicable supporting procedures. Individuals not employed by Microsoft, but allowed to access, manage, or process information assets of the Azure environment and datacenters are also accountable for understanding and adhering to the guidance contained in the Security Policy and standards.

Commitment to Competence

Microsoft hiring managers define job requirements prior to recruiting, interviewing, and hiring. Job requirements include the primary responsibilities and tasks involved in the job, background skills needed to perform the job, and personal qualifications desired. Once the requirements are determined, managers create a job description, which is a profile of the job, and is used to identify potential candidates. When viable candidates are identified, the interview process begins to evaluate candidates and make an appropriate hiring decision.

Microsoft employees create individual Core Priorities that align with those of their manager, organization, and Microsoft, and are supported with customer-centric actions and measures so that everyone is working toward the same overarching vision. These Core Priorities are established when an employee is hired, and then updated during one-on-one Connect meetings with their manager. The primary focus of the Connect meetings is to assess employee performance against their priorities and to agree on an updated list of priorities going forward.

Microsoft's Compensation Committee is responsible for reviewing and discussing plans for executive officer development and corporate succession plans for the CEO and other executive officers.

Internal Communication

Responsibilities around internal controls are communicated broadly through Monthly Controller calls, All Hands Meetings run by the Chief Financial Officer (CFO), and email updates sent / conference calls held by the Financial Compliance Group with the Sarbanes-Oxley extended project team. Responsibilities for compliance with policies are outlined in the SBC training.

Compliance & Ethics - Board of Directors and Senior Leadership

Compliance & Ethics designs and provides reports to the Board of Directors on compliance matters. They also organize annual meetings with the Senior Leadership Team (SLT) for their compliance review.

Internal Audit Department

Microsoft has an Internal Audit (IA) function that reports directly to the Audit Committee (AC) of the Board of Directors, which is constituted solely of independent directors. IA has a formal charter that is reviewed by the AC and management. Responsibilities of IA include performing audits and reporting issues and recommendations to management and the AC.

Audit Committee

The AC charter and responsibilities are on Microsoft's website. The AC meets privately on a quarterly basis with Microsoft's external auditors and IA. The agendas for the quarterly AC meetings are found in the AC Responsibilities Calendar sent out with the charter. In addition, the AC influences the company through the IA function. The AC reviews the scope of internal audit and assists in the process of identifying and resolving any issues. Lastly, the AC monitors itself by completing an annual self-evaluation.

Risk Assessment

Practices for Identification of Risk

The Microsoft Enterprise Risk Management (ERM) team provides management and accountability of Microsoft Corporate's short- and long-term risks. ERM collaborates with Internal Audit, the Financial Compliance Group, Operations, and Legal and Compliance groups to perform a formal risk assessment. These risk assessments include risks in financial reporting, fraud, and compliance with laws.

Internal Audit - Fraud Risks

IA and the Financial Integrity Unit (FIU) are responsible for identifying fraud risks across Microsoft. The FIU performs procedures for the detection, investigation, and prevention of financial fraud impacting Microsoft worldwide. Fraud and abuse that are uncovered are reported to the Disclosure Committee. The FIU provides both a reactive and proactive response to allegations of fraud and abuse. The FIU uses a case management system that is also used by the Director of Compliance to track cases and related metrics. The FIU interacts with Microsoft management, Corporate, External, and Legal Affairs (CELA), Human Resource (HR), Finance, Procurement, and others to determine specific fraud risks and responses.

Periodic Risk Assessment

IA and other groups within the company perform a periodic risk assessment. The assessment is reviewed by senior management.

IA specialization area leaders determine high-priority risks across the company, including risks related to financial reporting, operational business process, and systems controls. Control failures are also assessed to determine whether they give rise to additional risks.

Compliance & Ethics / Internal Audit / Risk Management - Risk Responsibility

The responsibility for risk is distributed throughout the organization based on the individual group's services. Compliance & Ethics, IA, and the ERM team work together to represent enterprise risk management. Through quarter and year-end reviews, the CFO, and Corporate Controller (and respective groups) review the disclosures and issues that may have arisen.

Monitoring

Security and Compliance Monitoring

Azure and the datacenters maintain reasonable and appropriate technical and organizational measures, internal controls, and information security routines intended to help protect customer data against accidental loss, destruction, or alteration; unauthorized disclosure or access; or unlawful destruction.

Compliance & Ethics - Business Conduct Hotline

There is a confidential and anonymous Business Conduct Hotline available for employees to report issues. The hotline is accessible 24x7 through email, phone, fax, and mail. The individual may also send a letter or fax reporting the concern to Microsoft's Compliance & Ethics - Business & Regulatory Investigations team.

Employees are instructed that it is their duty to promptly report any concerns of suspected or known violations of the Code of Professional Conduct, the SBC, or other Microsoft policies or guidelines. The procedures to be followed for such a report are outlined in the SBC and the Whistle Blowing Reporting Procedure and Guidelines in the Employee Handbook. Employees are also encouraged to communicate the issue to their manager, their manager's manager, their CELA contact, their HR contact, or the Compliance Office.

Internal Audit

Microsoft's IA department provides support to management across the company by independently and objectively assessing whether the objectives of management are adequately performed, and by facilitating process improvements, and the adoption of business practices, policies, and controls governing worldwide operations.

Information and Communication

An annual process exists to set objectives and commitments among all executives and is rolled down to employees. These commitments and objectives are filtered down to team members through the annual and midyear review process.

Office of the CFO - Communications External to the Company

CFO communications outside the company occur throughout the year and, where appropriate, these external communications include a discussion of the company's attitude toward sound internal controls. The Office of the CFO is responsible for a number of communications outside the company, including Quarterly Earnings Release, Financial Analyst meetings, customer visits, external conferences, and external publications.

Data

Customers upload data for storage or processing within the services or applications that are hosted on the cloud services platform. In addition, certain types of data are provided by the customers or generated on the customer's behalf to enable the usage of the cloud services. Microsoft only uses customer data in order to support the provisioning of the services subscribed to by the customers in accordance with the Service Level Agreements (SLAs). The customer provided data are broadly classified into the following data types:

1. Access Control Data is data used to manage access to administrative roles or sensitive functions.
2. Customer Content is the data, information and code that Microsoft internal employees, and non-Microsoft personnel (if present) provide to, transfer in, store in or process in a Microsoft Online Service or product.
3. End User Identifiable Information (EUII) is data that directly identifies or could be used to identify the authenticated user of a Microsoft service. EUII does not extend to other personal information found in Customer Content.
4. Support Data is data provided to Microsoft and generated by Microsoft as part of support activities.
5. Feedback is data provided as part of a review or feedback for one of Microsoft's products and services that includes personal data.
6. Account Data is information about payment instruments. This type of data is not stored in the Azure platform.
7. Public Personal Data is publicly available personal information that Microsoft obtains from external sources.
8. End User Pseudonymous Identifiers (EUPI) are identifiers created by Microsoft, tied to the user of a Microsoft service.
9. Organization Identifiable Information (OII) is data that can be used to identify a particular tenant / Azure subscription / deployment / organization (generally configuration or usage data) and is not linkable to a user.
10. System Metadata is data generated in the course of running the service, not linkable to a user or tenant. It does not contain Access Control Data, Customer Content, EUII, Support Data, Account Data, Public Personal Data, EUPI, or OII.
11. Public Non-Personal Data is publicly available information that Microsoft obtains from external sources. It does not contain Public Personal Data.

Data Ownership

Microsoft does not inspect, approve, or monitor applications that customers deploy to Azure. Moreover, Microsoft does not know what kind of data customers choose to store in Azure. Microsoft does not claim data ownership over the customer information entered into Azure. Azure's Agreement states, "Customers are solely responsible for the content of all Customer Data. Customers will secure and maintain all rights in Customer Data necessary for Azure to provide the Online Services to them without violating the rights of any third party or otherwise obligating Microsoft to them or to any third party. Microsoft does not and will not assume any obligations with respect to Customer Data or to their use of the Product other than as expressly set forth in the Agreement or as required by applicable law."

Applicable Data Elements

For the purposes of this report, Microsoft has implemented controls to protect the data elements specifically covered under Customer Content and Access Control Data.

Azure Environment

Azure is developed and managed by the Azure team, and provides a cloud platform based on machine virtualization. This means that customer code - whether it's deployed in a PaaS Worker Role or an IaaS Virtual Machine - executes in a Windows Server Hyper-V virtual machine. Every physical node in Azure has one or more virtual machines, also called instances, that are scheduled on physical CPU cores, are assigned dedicated RAM, and have controlled access to local disk and network I/O.

On each Azure node, there is a Hypervisor that runs directly over the hardware and divides a node into a variable number of Guest Virtual Machines (VMs). Each node also has one special Root VM, which runs the Host Operating System (OS), as shown in figure below. Fabric Agents (FAs) on Root VMs are used to manage Guest Agents (GAs) within Guest VMs. Isolation of the Root VM from the Guest VMs and the Guest VMs from one another is a key concept in Azure security architecture.

Fabric Controller Lifecycle Management

In Azure, VMs (nodes) run on groups of physical servers known as “clusters”, of approximately 1,000 machines. Each cluster is independently managed by a scaled-out and redundant platform Fabric Controller (FC) software component.

Each FC manages the lifecycle of VMs and applications running in its cluster, including provisioning and monitoring the health of the hardware under its control. The FC executes both automatic operations, like healing VM instances to healthy servers when it determines that the original server has failed, as well as application-management operations like deploying, updating, reimaging and scaling out applications. Dividing the datacenter into clusters isolates faults at the FC level, preventing certain classes of errors from affecting servers beyond the cluster in which they occur. FCs that serve a particular Azure cluster are grouped into FC Clusters.

FC Managed Operating Systems

An Azure OS base image Virtual Hard Disk (VHD) is deployed on all Host, Native, and Guest VMs in the Azure production environment. The three types of FC managed OS images are:

1. Host OS: Host OS is a customized version of the Windows OS that runs on Host Machine Root VMs
2. Native OS: Native OS runs on Azure native tenants such as the FC itself, Azure Storage and Load Balancer that do not have any hypervisor
3. Guest OS: Guest OS runs on Guest VMs (for IaaS, FC will run customer provided images on a VHD)

The Host OS and Native OS are OS images that run on physical servers and native tenants and host the Fabric Agent and other Host components. The Guest OS provides the most up-to-date runtime environment for Azure customers and can be automatically upgraded with new OS releases or manually upgraded based on customer preference.

Software Development Kits

Azure allows customers to create applications in many development languages. Microsoft provides language-specific Software Development Kits (SDKs) for .NET, Java, PHP, Ruby, Node.js and others. In addition, there is a general Azure SDK that provides basic support for any language, such as C++ or Python. These SDKs can be used with development tools such as Visual Studio and Eclipse.

These SDKs also support creating applications running outside the cloud that use Azure services. For example, a customer can build an application running on a Host that relies on Azure Blob Storage, or create a tool that automatically deploys Azure applications through the platform's management interface.

Azure Services and Offerings

Azure services and offerings are grouped into categories discussed below. A complete list of Azure services and offerings available to customers is provided in the Azure Service Directory. Brief descriptions for each of the customer-facing services and offerings in scope for this report are provided below. It allows customers to schedule compute-intensive tasks and dynamically adjust resources for their solution without managing the infrastructure. Customers can use Batch to scale out parallel workloads, manage the execution of tasks in a queue, and cloud-enable applications to offload compute jobs to the cloud.

Cloud Services: Cloud Services is a PaaS service designed to support applications that are scalable, reliable, and inexpensive to operate. Cloud Services is hosted on virtual machines. However, customers have more control over the VMs. Customers can install their own software on VMs that use Cloud Services and access them remotely. It removes the need to manage server infrastructure and lets customers build, deploy, and manage modern applications with web and worker roles.

Guest Configuration: Guest Configuration provides management and configuration capabilities to Azure compute resources in Azure and Arc VMs. Guest Configuration uses the Azure policy to audit the internal configuration of a VM's OS, deployed applications, and the environment configuration. It also includes the functionality of Azure Container service (ACS), which was retired in calendar year Q1 2020. ACS was a container hosting environment which provided users the choice of container orchestration platforms such as Mesosphere DC/OS and Docker Swarm. AKS makes deploying and managing containerized applications easy. It offers serverless Kubernetes, an integrated continuous integration and continuous delivery (CI/CD) experience, and enterprise-grade security and governance. AKS unites the customer development and operations teams on a single platform to rapidly build, deliver, and scale applications with confidence.

Azure Red Hat OpenShift: Azure Red Hat OpenShift offering provides flexible, self-service deployment of fully managed OpenShift clusters. It helps customers maintain regulatory compliance and focus on their application development, while the master, infrastructure, and application nodes are patched, updated, and monitored by both Microsoft and Red Hat.

Container Instances: Container Instances enables the creation of containers as first-class objects in Azure, without requiring VM management and without enforcing any prescriptive application model. Container Instances is a solution for any scenario that can operate in isolated containers, without orchestration. Customer

Container Registry: Container Registry allows customers the ability to store images for all types of container deployments including DC / OS, Docker Swarm, Kubernetes, and Azure services such as App Service, Batch, Azure Service Fabric, and others. Developers can manage the configuration of apps isolated from the configuration of the hosting environment. Container Registry reduces network latency and eliminates ingress / egress charges by keeping Docker registries in the same datacenters as customers' deployments. It provides local, network-close storage of container images within subscriptions, and full control over access and image names.

Networking

Application Gateway: Application Gateway is a web traffic load balancer that enables customers to manage traffic to their web applications. It is an Azure-managed layer-7 solution providing HTTP load balancing, Web Application Firewall (WAF), Transport Layer Security (TLS) termination service, and session-based cookie affinity to Internet-facing or internal web applications.

Azure ExpressRoute: Azure ExpressRoute lets customers create private connections between Azure datacenters and customer's infrastructure located on-premises or in a colocation environment. ExpressRoute connections do not go over the public Internet, and offer more reliability, faster speeds, and lower latencies than typical Internet connections.

Azure Firewall: Azure Firewall is a managed cloud-based network security service that protects Azure virtual network resources. It is a fully stateful firewall as a service with built-in high availability and unrestricted cloud scalability. Customers can centrally create, enforce, and log application and network connectivity policies across subscriptions and virtual networks. Azure Firewall uses a static public IP address for virtual network resources allowing outside firewalls to identify traffic originating from a virtual network. This service is fully integrated with Azure Monitor Essentials for logging and analytics purposes.

Azure Firewall Manager: Azure Firewall Manager is a security management service that provides central security policy and route management for cloud-based security perimeters. Azure Firewall Manager simplifies central configuration and management of rules for multiple Azure Firewall instances, across Azure regions and subscriptions. This allows customers to automate Azure Firewall deployment to multiple secured virtual hubs and integrates with trusted security partner solutions for advanced services.

Azure Front Door: Azure Front Door (AFD) is Microsoft's highly available and scalable Web Application Acceleration Platform, Global HTTP Load Balancer, Application Protection and Content Delivery Network. AFD enables customers to build, operate and scale out their dynamic web application and static content. AFD provides customers' application with end-user performance, unified regional / stamp maintenance automation, Business Continuity and Disaster Recovery (BCDR) automation, unified client / user information, caching and service insights.

Azure Internet Analyzer: Azure Internet Analyzer is a client-side measurement platform that tests how changes to customer's networking infrastructure impact their client's / end-user's performance. Internet Analyzer uses a small JavaScript client embedded in the customer's web application to measure the latency from their end-users to customer selected set of network destinations (endpoints). Internet Analyzer allows customers to set up multiple side-by-side tests, allowing to evaluate a variety of scenarios as their infrastructure and needs evolve. It provides custom and preconfigured endpoints, providing a customer both the convenience and flexibility to make trusted performance decisions for their end-users.

Azure Private Link: Azure Private Link provides private connectivity from a virtual network to Azure PaaS, customer-owned, or Microsoft partner services. It simplifies the network architecture and secures the connection between endpoints in Azure by eliminating data exposure to the public Internet.

Azure Public IP: Azure Public IP allows internet resources to communicate inbound to Azure resources, as well as providing a predictable method for communicating outbound to the Internet and other public-facing Azure services. Customers can associate Azure Public IP addresses to Virtual Machine network interfaces, public load balancers, VPN gateways, and other resources.

Azure Route Server: Azure Route Server enables the customer's network appliances to exchange route information with Azure virtual networks dynamically. It allows customers to exchange routing information directly through Border Gateway Protocol (BGP) routing protocol between any Network Virtual Appliances (NVA) that supports the BGP routing protocol and the Azure Software Defined Network (SDN) in the Azure Virtual Network (VNET) without the need to manually configure or maintain route tables.

Azure Web Application Firewall: Azure Web Application Firewall helps protect customer's web apps from malicious attacks and top 10 Open Web Application Security Project (OWASP) security vulnerabilities, such as SQL injection and cross-site scripting. Cloud-native Azure Web Application Firewall service deploys in minutes and offers customized rules that meet the customer's web app security requirements.

Content Delivery Network: Content Delivery Network (CDN) sends audio, video, applications, images, and other files faster and more reliably to customers by using the servers that are closest to each user. This dramatically increases speed and availability. Due to its distributed global scale, CDN can handle sudden traffic spikes and heavy loads without new infrastructure costs or capacity worries. CDN is built on a highly scalable, reverse-proxy architecture with sophisticated DDoS identification and mitigation technologies. Customers can choose to use Azure CDN from Verizon or Akamai partners. Verizon and Akamai are not covered in this SOC report.

Load Balancer: Load Balancer distributes Internet and private network traffic among healthy service instances in cloud services or virtual machines. It lets customers achieve greater reliability and seamlessly add more capacity to their applications.

Microsoft Azure Peering Service: Microsoft Azure Peering Service is a networking service that enhances customer connectivity to Microsoft cloud services such as Microsoft 365, Dynamics 365, SaaS services, Azure, or any Microsoft services accessible via the public Internet. Customers can plan and carry out migration of their servers using the Server Assessment and Server Migration tools; these are Microsoft solutions available on Azure Migrate. Server Assessment helps to discover on-premise applications and servers (Hyper-V and VMware VMs), and provides a migration assessment: a mapping from discovered servers to recommended Azure VMs, migration readiness analysis and cost estimates to run the VMs in Azure. It allows for dependency visualization to view dependencies of a single VM or a group of VMs. Server Migration allows customers to migrate the on-premises servers (non-virtualized physical or virtualized using Hyper-V and VMware) to Azure. Microsoft solutions to assess and migrate database workloads - Database Assessment and Database Migration - are also discoverable on Azure Migrate. In addition to these tools, ISV partner tools for assessment and migration are also discoverable on Azure Migrate. The machines discovered using these tools and the assessment and migration activities conducted using these tools can be tracked on Azure Migrate; this helps customers to track all their migration activities at one place.

Resource Graph also offers the ability to assess the impact of applying policies in a vast cloud environment.

Azure Resource Manager \(ARM\): Azure Resource Manager (ARM) enables customers to repeatedly deploy their app and have confidence that their resources are deployed in a consistent state. Customers can define the infrastructure and dependencies for their app in a single declarative template. This template is flexible enough for use across all customer environments such as test, staging, or production. If customers create a solution from the Azure Marketplace, the solution will automatically include a template that customers can use for their app. With Azure Resource Manager, customers can put resources with a common lifecycle into a resource group that can be deployed or deleted in a single action. Customers can see which resources are linked by any dependencies. Moreover, they can control who in their organization can perform actions on the resources. Customers manage permissions by defining roles and adding users or groups to the roles. For critical resources, they can apply an explicit lock that prevents users from deleting or modifying the resource. ARM logs all user actions so customers can audit those actions. For each action, the audit log contains information about the user, time, events, and status.

Security Organization

Control Objective 1: Controls provide reasonable assurance that information security policies are defined, implemented and communicated.

Information Security Program

Azure has established an Information Security Program that provides documented management direction and support for implementing information security within the Azure environment. The design and implementation of applicable controls are defined based on the type of Azure service and its architecture.

The objective of the Information Security Program is to maintain the Confidentiality, Integrity, and Availability of information while complying with applicable legislative, regulatory, and contractual requirements.

The Information Security Program consists of the following components:

The Information Security Program is based on the International Organization of Standards (ISO) Codes of Practice for information security management ISO / IEC 27001:2013 standard. Its accompanying policies and processes provide a framework to assess risks to the Azure environment, develop mitigating strategies and implement security controls. In addition, team specific Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) are developed to provide implementation details for carrying out specific operational tasks in the following areas:

1. Access Control

Microsoft Security Policy

Microsoft Security Policy outlines the high-level objectives related to information security, defines risk management requirements and information security roles and responsibilities. The Security Policy contains rules and requirements that are met by Azure and other Online Services staff in the delivery and operations of the Online Services environment. The Security Policy is derived from the ISO / IEC 27001:2013 standard and is augmented to address relevant regulatory and industry requirements for the Online Services environment.

The policy is reviewed and updated, as necessary, at least annually, or more frequently, in case of a significant security event, or upon significant changes to the service or business model, legal requirements, organization or platform.

Each management-endorsed version of the Microsoft Security Policy and all subsequent updates are distributed to all relevant stakeholders from the Microsoft intranet site.

Roles and Responsibilities

Information security roles and responsibilities have been defined across the different Azure functions. The Cloud + AI Security team facilitates implementation of security controls and provides security guidance to the teams. The Global Ecosystem and Compliance team also coordinates with representatives from CELA (including leads of IT and Security), Human Resources (personnel security), and Microsoft Online Services (security policy requirements) on additional information security related activities impacting the services.

Personnel

Microsoft performs employee background screening as determined by the hiring manager based on access to sensitive data, including access to personally identifiable information or to back-end computing assets and per customer requirements, as applicable. Microsoft also employs a formal performance review process to ensure employees adequately meet the responsibilities of their position, including adherence to company policies, information security policies, and workplace rules. Hiring managers may, at their discretion, initiate corrective actions, up to and including immediate termination, if any aspect of an employee's performance and conduct is not satisfactory.

The Microsoft Online Services Delivery Platform Group works with Microsoft Human Resources and vendor companies to perform the required background check on each new or transferred personnel before they are granted access to the Microsoft Online Services production assets containing customer data.

Corporate policies are communicated to employees and relevant external parties during the onboarding process and as part of the annual security training and awareness education program. Non-disclosure Agreements (NDAs) are signed by employees and relevant external parties upon engagement with Microsoft. Disciplinary actions are defined for persons who violate the Microsoft Security Policy or commit a security breach. Employees are also required to comply with relevant laws, regulations and provisions regarding information security remain valid if the area of responsibility changes or the employment relationship is terminated. Security Policy and non-disclosure requirements are reviewed periodically to validate appropriate protection of information.

Training and Awareness

Information security training and awareness is provided to Azure employees, contractors and third parties on an ongoing basis to educate them on applicable policies, standards and information security practices. Awareness training on security, availability and confidentiality of information is provided to employees at the time of joining as part of induction. In addition, all staff participate in a mandatory security, compliance, and privacy training periodically in order to design, build and operate secure cloud services.

Employees receive information security training and awareness through different programs such as new employee orientation, computer-based training, and periodic communication (e.g., compliance program updates). These include training and awareness pertaining to the platform, in the security, availability, confidentiality, and integrity domains. In addition, job-specific training is provided to personnel, where appropriate. The key objectives of the information security training and awareness program are listed below:

Objective 1	The learner will be able to articulate the need to protect confidentiality, integrity, and availability of the production environment.
Objective 2	The learner will be able to apply basic security practices to safeguard the production environment and customer information.
Objective 3	The learner will understand the criticality of security, compliance and privacy in relation to customer expectations.
Objective 4	The learner will have a basic understanding of the responsibility to meet compliance and privacy commitments.
Objective 5	The learner will know where to find additional information on security, privacy, business continuity / disaster recovery and compliance.

All Engineering staff are required to complete a computer-based training module when they join the team. Staff are required to retake this training at least once per fiscal year.

In addition, annual SBC training is mandatory for all Microsoft employees. The SBC training includes an anti-corruption section that focuses on Microsoft's anti-corruption policies and highlights policies that reinforce the need for employees to work with integrity and to comply with the anti-corruption laws of the countries in which Microsoft operates. All active employees are required to complete this course.

Operator Access

Control Objective 2: Controls provide reasonable assurance that logical access to production infrastructure is restricted to authorized personnel.

Production Infrastructure Access Management

Identity and Access Management (Microsoft Personnel)

The Security Policy establishes the access control requirements for requesting and provisioning user access for accounts and services. The policy requires that access be denied by default, follow least privilege principle, and be granted only upon business need.

Azure uses a specific corporate AD infrastructure for centralized authentication and authorization to restrict access to the systems and services within the Azure environment. Each user account is unique and is identifiable to an individual user.

Domain-account management requests are routed to the designated asset owner or associated agent according to established account provisioning and de-provisioning processes for approval. Typically, access is controlled through addition of individual user accounts to established domain security groups within the AD. Based on the configuration of a security group, any access request may either require explicit approval from the assigned security group owner or may be auto-approved for members of designated teams within Azure's organizational structure. Requests requiring explicit approval are automatically forwarded to the security group owner for approval in the system. In addition, Azure Government access requires explicit approval with required screening to confirm US citizenship of the user that is requesting access.

Employee status data from Microsoft HR is used to facilitate the provisioning and removal of user accounts in Azure-managed AD domains. Automated feeds from Microsoft HR systems provide this information, and account management processes prevent the creation of an account for individuals that do not have valid HR records. These feeds also initiate the removal of the user accounts for terminated users from the AD.

Automated mechanisms have been implemented to manage the appropriateness of access granted to information systems. Manual periodic reviews of individual accounts and security group memberships on assets are performed by authorized individuals, as appropriate, to evaluate whether access is still required. Remediation action is taken, as necessary, based on the review.

Policies and standards have been established and implemented to enforce appropriate user account password expiration, length, complexity, and history. Multi-factor authentication is enforced for production domains that do not require password-based authentication. Azure personnel are required to follow the Microsoft password policy for applicable domains as well as local user accounts for all assets. Additionally, domain user accounts, if inactive for more than 90 days are suspended until the appropriateness of continued access for these accounts is resolved. If no action is taken by the user to reenable the suspended account, after 15 days the account is deleted.

Access to Azure Components

Access to the Azure components (e.g., Fabric, Storage, Subscriptions, and Network Devices) in the production environment is controlled through a designated set of access points and restricted to the corresponding service Production Support and Engineering teams. Access points such as Secure Admin Workstation (SAW) require users to perform two-factor authentication using a smart card and AD domain credentials to gain access. Access to network devices in the scope boundary requires two-factor authentication. Passwords used to access Azure network devices are restricted to authorized individuals and system processes, based on job responsibilities and are changed on a periodic basis. Mobile devices connected to the production environment are limited to Secure Access Workstation (SAW) laptops and do not include phones or tablet.

In the unlikely event where JIT temporary access cannot be used, Azure service teams have the ability to access the production environment using designated break-glass accounts which provide user a short-term admin level access. Alerting and monitoring has been enabled for all break-glass accounts access. Upon accessing a break-glass account an alert is generated, whereupon the service team will investigate and determine if the access was appropriate.

Production assets that are not domain-joined or require local user accounts for authentication, require unique identifiers tied to individual user that requires appropriate approvals prior to being granted access. Non-domain-joined user accounts, that are not required due to termination of user or change in user's role and responsibilities, are removed manually within a stipulated period of termination / role change. In addition, access through persistent interactive local accounts on servers are not considered within user access review as they are configured to raise security alert upon creations and are created on isolated VMs which tend to have a short life span.

Operator Access

Control Objective 3: Controls provide reasonable assurance that logical access to production platform and network infrastructure is restricted to authorized personnel.

Network Segregation

Packet Filtering

Azure has implemented filtering platform with rule sets and guards to ascertain that the untrusted VMs cannot generate spoofed traffic, cannot receive traffic not addressed to them, cannot direct traffic to protected infrastructure endpoints, and cannot send or receive inappropriate broadcast traffic.

VM based switch is designed and implemented through the filtering platform with Address Resolution Protocol (ARP) guards / rules to defend against ARP spoofing and related attacks. The guards / rules can be enabled on a per port basis to verify the sender's Media Access Control (MAC) Address and IP address to prevent spoofing of outgoing ARP packets, and only allow inbound ARP packets to reach a VM if they are targeted at that VM's IP address.

Storage nodes run only Azure-provided code and configuration, and access control is thus narrowly tailored to permit legitimate customer, applications, and administrative access only.

Virtual Local Area Network Isolation

Virtual Local Area Networks (VLANs) are used to isolate FC and other devices. VLANs partition a network such that no communication is possible between VLANs without passing through a router.

The Azure network in any datacenter is logically segregated into the Fabric core VLAN that contains trusted FCs and supporting systems and a VLAN that houses the rest of the components including the customer VMs.

In addition, supported virtualization standards for the Azure environment are available on the Microsoft public website.

Platform Secrets

Platform secrets, including certificates, keys, and Storage Account Keys (SAKs) are used for internal communication and are managed in a secure store that is restricted to authorized Azure personnel.

Access to Customer Virtual Machines by Azure Personnel

By default, user accounts are not created, and the Windows default administrator account is disabled on customer PaaS VMs. However, access to the customer VMs may be required for exceptional situations such as troubleshooting issues and handling incidents. In order to resolve these types of issues, temporary access procedures have been established to provide temporary access for Azure personnel to customer data and applications with the appropriate approvals. These temporary access events (i.e., request, approval and revocation of access) are logged and tracked using an internal ticketing system per documented procedures.

Network Device Remote Access

Azure network device access is provided through TACACS+ and local accounts, and follows standard logical access procedures as established by the Azure Networking team.

Directory and Organizational Identity Services Access Management

Customer Authentication Credentials

Each online customer is assigned a unique identity. Appropriate password hashing algorithms are in place to ensure that the authentication credential data stored is protected and is unique to a customer.

Remote Desktop

Production servers are configured to authenticate via AD. Directory and Organizational Identity Services' production servers require users to perform two-factor authentication using a smart card and domain password to gain access to the Microsoft Directory Store production servers using the Remote Desktop Connection application. Remote Desktop Connection has encryption settings enforced. These settings are controlled using the domain group policy within the production servers. The settings enforce remote desktop connections made to the production server to be encrypted.

Data Security

Control Objective 4: Controls provide reasonable assurance that the data and secrets associated with the service are protected during transit and while at rest.

Data Classification and Confidentiality Policy

Data (also referred to as information and asset) is classified into eleven categories, as described in the Data section above, based on how it is used or may be used within the Service environment.

There is one other type of data which is sometimes referenced in relation to data classification and protection. Azure does not treat this as a single category. Instead, it may contain data from one or more data classes described in the Data section above.

- Personally Identifiable Information (PII): Any data that can identify an individual is PII. Within Azure, PII of Azure subscription / tenant administrators (direct customers) is treated differently from the PII of end-users of services hosted in Azure. This is because in order to provide the Azure service, access to Administrator PII is needed, such as in the event of outage related notifications.

Cryptographic Controls

Cryptographic controls and approved algorithms are used for information protection within the Azure platform and implemented based on the Azure Cryptographic Policy and Microsoft Cryptographic Standards. Cryptographic keys are managed throughout their lifecycle (e.g., ownership, generation, storage, distribution, periodic rotation and revocation) in accordance with established key management procedures. Access to cryptographic keys is restricted through security groups membership and use of JIT.

Backup

Processes have been implemented for the backup of critical Azure components and data. Backups are managed by the Azure Data Protection Services (DPS) team and scheduled on a regular frequency established by the respective component teams. The DPS team monitors backup processes for failures and resolves them per documented procedures to meet required backup frequency and retention. Azure teams that support the services and the backup process conducts integrity checks through standard restoration activities. Further, production data is encrypted on backup media.

Backup restorations are performed periodically by appropriate individuals. Results of the test are captured and any findings are tracked to resolution.

Offsite backups are tracked and managed to maintain accuracy of the inventory information. Azure is moving from offsite tape-based storage solutions to use of storage accounts in regions or locations different from the primary data location.

Access to backup data follows the same procedures defined under the Operator Access section above.

Data Protection Services

The DPS group has implemented a secure backup system infrastructure to provide secure backup, retention, and restoration of data in the Microsoft Online Services environment. Data is encrypted prior to backup and can be stored on tape, disk, or Storage accounts based on the service requirements.

Data Redundancy and Replication

Azure Storage provides data redundancy to minimize disruptions to the availability of customer data. The data redundancy is achieved through fragmentation of data into extents which are copied onto multiple nodes within a region. This approach minimizes the impact of isolated Storage node failures and loss of data.

Critical Azure components that support delivery of customer services have been designed to maintain high availability through redundancy and automatic failover to another instance with minimal disruption to customer services. Agents on each VM monitor the health of the VM. If the agent fails to respond, the FC reboots the VM. In case of hardware failure, the FC moves the role instance to a new hardware node and reprograms the network configuration for the service role instances to restore the service to full availability.

Customers can also leverage the geographically distributed nature of the Azure infrastructure by creating a second Storage account to provide hot-failover capability. In such a scenario, customers may create custom roles to replicate and synchronize data between Microsoft facilities. Customers may also write customized roles to extract data from Storage for offsite private backups.

Data is backed up to a region or location different from the primary data location and retained as per the retention policy.

Azure Storage maintains three replicas of customer data in blobs, tables, queues, files, and disks across three separate fault domains in the primary region. Customers can choose to enable geo-redundant storage, in which case three additional replicas of that same data will be kept also across separate fault domains in the paired region within the same geography. Examples of Azure Regions are North and South US or North and West Europe. These regions are separated by several hundred miles. Geo-replication provides additional data durability in case of a region wide disaster. For Azure Government, the geo-replication is limited to regions within the United States.

For Azure SQL that relies on Service Fabric, there are a minimum of three replicas of each database - one primary and two secondary replicas. If any component fails on the primary replica, Azure SQL detects the failure and fails over to the secondary replica. In case of a physical loss of the replica, Azure SQL creates a new replica automatically.

All critical platform metadata is backed up in an alternate region several hundred miles from the primary copy. Backup methods vary by service and include Azure Storage geo-replication, Azure SQL geo-replication, service-specific backup processes, and backup to tape. Azure manages and maintains all backup infrastructure.

Data Segregation

Directory Services assigns each tenant a unique identifier as part of the Active Directory. The mapping between the tenant and the AD location is represented within the partition table and is hidden from each customer tenant. Each tenant is segregated and partitioned within AD forest(s) based on this unique identifier to ensure appropriate customer data segregation.

Customer Data Deletion

Customer data is retained in the Online Service in a limited function account for 90 days after expiration or termination of customer's subscription so that the customer may extract the data. After the 90 day retention period ends, the customer's account is disabled and the customer's data is deleted. In accordance with applicable retention policies and legal / regulatory requirements as described in the Customer Registration section of the subscription, customer data is securely disposed of upon customer instruction. Hard disk and offsite backup tape destruction guidelines have been established for appropriate disposal. Customer accounts in non-payment or in violation of terms, etc., are subject to involuntary terminations and account disablement.

Platform Communication and Customer Secrets Protection

Data integrity is a key component of the Azure Platform. Customer secrets such as Storage Account Keys are encrypted during storage and transit. The customer facing portals and APIs only allow access to the Azure platform over a secure channel based on the service.

Azure Platform Communication

Internal communication between key Azure components where customer data is transmitted and involved is secured using SSL and TLS. SSL and TLS certificates are self-signed, except for those certificates that are used for connections from outside the Azure network (including the Storage service and the FC). These certificates are issued by a Microsoft Certificate Authority. Customer data is transmitted over a secure channel to the Azure platform services.

Customer Secrets

Customer secrets, including certificates, private keys, RDP passwords and SAKs are communicated through the SMAPI via the REST protocol, or Azure Portal over a secured channel using SSL. Customer secrets are stored in an encrypted form in Azure Storage accounts. Further, private root keys belonging to Azure services are protected from unauthorized access.

Access Control Service Namespace

Customers interact with the Access Control Service namespace over the web and service endpoints. Access Control Service namespace is only accessible through HTTPS and uses SSL to encrypt transmission of customer secrets including cryptographic keys, passwords and certificates over external networks. The customer information transmitted to all the Access Control Service endpoints is encrypted over external networks.

Change Management

Control Objective 5: Control policies and procedures provide reasonable assurance that changes to the production platform are documented, authorized, and tested.

The Change Management process has been established to plan, schedule, approve, apply, distribute, and track changes to the production environment through designated responsibilities with the objective of minimizing risk and customer impact. It further controls the integrity and reliability of the environment while maintaining the pace of change required for business purposes.

Separation of Environments

Azure has implemented segregated environments for development, test and production, as a means to support segregation of duties and prevent unauthorized changes to production. Azure maintains logical and / or physical separation between the DEV (development), TEST (pre-production) and PROD (production) environments. Virtual services run on different clusters in separate network segments. TEST and PROD environments reside in separate network segments, which are accessed through distinct TEST and PROD Jumpboxes. Access to TEST and PROD Jumpboxes is restricted to authorized personnel from the service Operations and Production Support teams.

Deployment of software to production must meet testing and operational readiness criteria at each pre-production and production stage, and be approved prior to release. Production deployments use approved software builds and images.

In addition, production data is not used or copied to non-production environments. Test scripts and synthetic data are created for use in the development and test environments.

Segregation of Duties

Segregation of duties is established on critical functions within the Azure environment, to minimize the risk of unauthorized changes to production systems. Responsibilities for requesting, approving and implementing changes to the Azure environment are segregated among designated teams.

Software and Configuration Changes

Software and configuration changes within Azure, including major releases, minor releases and hot fixes, are managed through a formal change and release management procedure, and tracked using a centralized ticketing system. Changes are requested, approved, tracked and implemented throughout the release lifecycle, which includes product and engineering planning, release management, deployment and post-deployment support phases. Change requests are documented, assessed for their risks and evaluated / approved for acceptance by the designated Azure personnel. Software releases are discussed, planned, and approved through the daily coordinated meetings with appropriate representatives from the service and component teams.

Changes that are made to the source code are controlled through an internal source code repository. Refer to the Secure Development section for the controls enforced on the source code.

Formal security and quality assurance testing is performed prior to the software release through each pre-production environment (i.e., development and stage) based on defined acceptance criteria. The results of the quality assurance testing are reviewed and approved by the appropriate representatives prior to moving the release to production. For changes being deployed to the sovereign clouds, the change is tested in an Azure pre-production environment which is then deployed to the sovereign cloud production environment by the sovereign cloud data custodian after obtaining an additional approval from the sovereign cloud operator(s). Changes are reviewed for their adherence to established change and release management procedures prior to closure. Once deployed, changes are monitored for success; failed implementations are immediately rolled back and the change is not considered as completed until it is implemented and validated to operate as intended.

All activity performed, including changes made, using a user's break-glass account is logged and alerted. Service teams will review activity to ensure any changes made were appropriate.

Azure has implemented tools to perform integrity verification checks to detect unauthorized changes to software, firmware and information.

Hardware Changes

Hardware changes are managed through formal change and release management procedures and a centralized ticketing system. Hardware changes are evaluated against the release entrance criteria that are established by the Azure Build-Out team, which forms the acceptance criteria for build-out of hardware within the Azure environment. Similar to software changes, the infrastructure changes are discussed and planned through the daily coordinated meetings with representatives from service and component teams.

The Azure Build-Out team coordinates scheduling of the release and deployment of the change into the production environment. The Azure Build-Out team performs the build-out of hardware devices and post build-out validation in coordination with the Azure Deployment Engineering team to verify its adherence to the hardware build requirements for new clusters. Azure Operations Managers perform final review and sign off of new deployments and Azure Build-Out team closes the ticket.

Network Changes

The Azure teams have implemented a formal change management process and centralized ticketing tool to document network changes and their approvals. Network changes include configuration changes, emergency changes, ACLs changes, patches, and new deployments.

ACL changes, that are identified and categorized as a standard change, are considered as pre-approved and may be implemented on peer review. Non-standard changes are reviewed for their characteristics and risks, and approved by representatives from the Cloud + AI Security and Networking teams, during the daily coordinated meeting. Reviews and approvals are also tracked in a centralized ticketing system. Changes are performed through approved change implementers that are part of a designated security group. Post-implementation reviews are performed by qualified individuals, other than the implementer, who evaluate the change success criteria.

Software Development

Control Objective 6: Controls provide reasonable assurance that development of new features or major changes to production platform follow a formal SDLC process and are documented, authorized and tested.

Secure Development

Azure's software development practices, across each of the component teams, are aligned with the Microsoft SDL methodology. The SDL introduces security and privacy control specifications during the feature / component design and throughout the development process, which are reviewed through designated security roles. Azure service teams track and complete their SDL compliance twice a year.

The Cloud + AI Security team creates the SDL baseline for Azure services to follow. The SDL baseline includes tasks to be performed which identify tools or processes that ensure teams are developing their services in a secured manner. As part of onboarding onto the SDL process, the Cloud + AI Security team works with the service teams to determine any additional SDL steps to be performed specific to the service. Additionally, teams are required to perform threat modeling exercises which are reviewed and approved by the Cloud + AI Security team. Each team has an SDL Owner who is responsible for ensuring appropriate completion of the SDL tasks. The SDL Owner reviews the SDL tasks and gives the overall sign off for completion of the SDL process.

Authorized system changes are promoted from test, pre-production and production per the software change and release management process as described in the Change Management section.

Source Code Control

The Azure source code is stored within Azure's internal source code repository tools that function as the versioning system for the source code. The tools track the identity of the person who checks source code out, and what changes are made. Permission to make changes to the source code is provided by granting write access to the source code branches, which limits the access to confined project boundaries per job responsibilities. In addition, source code builds are scanned for malware prior to production release.

Access requests by full-time employees (FTEs) and non-FTEs to the source code repository require approval from the relevant project sponsor. Upon expiry, FTEs and non-FTEs need to submit access request to the project sponsor for renewal.

Vulnerability Management

Control Objective 7: Controls provide reasonable assurance that the production platform is monitored for known security vulnerabilities and potential unauthorized activity.

Logging and Monitoring

The Cloud + AI Security team has implemented agent-based monitoring infrastructure or custom script-based monitoring within the Azure environment to provide automated logging and alerting capabilities. The monitoring system detects potential unauthorized activity and security events such as the creation of unauthorized local users, local groups, drivers, services, or IP configurations. The monitoring agents are responsible for monitoring a defined set of user and administrator events, aggregating log events and sending the aggregated abnormal log information to a centralized log repository either at regular intervals or in real-time.

Component teams (e.g., Fabric and Storage) determine the specific events that need to be captured in consideration with a baseline. Administrator, operator, and system activities performed, such as logon / logoff within the Azure environment, are logged and monitored.

For network devices, the Azure Networking team monitors, logs, and reports on critical / suspicious activities and deviations from established baseline security configuration for the network devices. Predefined events are reported, tracked, and followed up on and security data is available for forensic investigations.

The Cloud + AI Security team has implemented an alerting system to provide real-time alerting through automatic generation of emails and alarms based on the log information captured by the monitoring infrastructure. Component teams are responsible for configuring the events to be alerted. The event and warning logs are routinely examined for anomalous behavior and when necessary, appropriate actions are taken in accordance with the incident handling procedures described in the Incident Management section. The Cyber Defense Operations Center (CDOC), Azure Live Site, and component teams manage response to malicious events, including escalation to and engaging specialized support groups.

Azure provides logging mechanisms that can be configured by customers to log activities and performance metrics related to their resources.

Microsoft operating system updates for virtual machines are made available through Microsoft Security Response Center (MSRC) site and Windows Update.

System Monitoring Tools

1. Geneva Monitoring within the Azure platform provides automated centralized logging and alerting capabilities for monitoring system use and detection of potential unauthorized activity. The Geneva Monitoring capabilities include Data Collection, Data Aggregation, Data Analysis and Information Access.
2. Alert and Incident Management System (IcM) provides alerting on a real-time basis by automatically generating emails and incident tickets based on the log information captured in Geneva Monitoring.
3. Azure Security Monitoring (ASM) provides logging and alerting capabilities upon detection of breaches or attempts to breach Azure platform trust boundaries. Critical security event logs generated are configured to alert through IcM. ASM monitors key security parameters to identify potentially malicious activity on Azure nodes.
4. Microsoft Endpoint Protection (MEP) guards against malware and helps improve security of the Azure PaaS Guest customers, Azure infrastructure tenants and Azure internal applications. MEP can be configured to enable antimalware protection for the Azure infrastructure tenants and Azure PaaS Guest VMs. Microsoft's antimalware endpoint solutions are designed to run quietly in the background without requiring human intervention. If malware is detected, the endpoint protection agent automatically takes action to remove the detected threat.
5. System Center Endpoint Protection (SCEP) guards against malware and helps improve security for Azure IaaS and physical servers. SCEP solution is designed to run in the background without requiring human intervention. If malware is detected, the endpoint protection agent automatically takes action to remove the detected threat.

6. ClamAV is implemented to monitor for malicious software in the Linux based server environment. If malware is detected, the endpoint protection agent automatically takes action to remove the detected threat.
7. Windows Defender guards against malware and helps improve security of the Azure PaaS, IaaS, and physical servers running Windows Server 2016 and newer. Windows Defender can be configured to enable antimalware protection for the Azure infrastructure tenants and Azure PaaS Guest VMs. Microsoft's antimalware solutions are designed to run quietly in the background without requiring human intervention. If malware is detected, the Windows Defender automatically takes action to remove the detected threat.

In addition, the Azure Live Site team uses third-party external monitoring services to monitor service health and performance.

Network Monitoring

The Networking team maintains a logging infrastructure and monitoring processes for network devices. In addition, the Azure Live Site team uses WaNetMon and third-party external monitoring services to monitor network connectivity. In addition, OneDDoS service is implemented on the Azure network to detect and respond to network-based attacks.

Vulnerability Scanning

Cloud + AI Security team carries out frequent internal and external scans to identify vulnerabilities and assess the effectiveness of the patch management process. Services are scanned for known vulnerabilities; new services are added to the next timed quarterly scan, based on their date of inclusion, and follow at least a quarterly scanning schedule thereafter. These scans are used to ensure compliance with baseline configuration templates, validate that relevant patches are installed and identify vulnerabilities. The scanning reports are reviewed by appropriate personnel and remediation efforts are conducted in a timely manner.

Patching

The service and component teams are notified by the Microsoft Security Response Center (MSRC) upon identification of technical vulnerabilities applicable to the Azure Windows-based systems. Azure works with MSRC to evaluate patch releases and determine applicability and impact to Azure and other Microsoft Online Services environments and customers. For Linux based systems, the Ubuntu Security Notices for Linux patches are relied upon as the primary source. The applicable security patches are applied immediately or during a scheduled release to the Azure environment based on the severity of the vulnerability.

Processes are in place to evaluate patches and their applicability to the Azure environment. Once patches have been reviewed and their criticality level determined, service teams determine the release cadence for implementing patches without service disruption.

Applicable patches are automatically applied to Guest PaaS VMs unless the customer has configured the VM for manual upgrades. In this case, the customer is responsible for applying patches.

Teams follow a change process to modify the underlying OS within the platform. All changes are reviewed and tested, at a minimum, for their quality, performance, impact on other systems, recovery objectives and security features before they are moved into production using a defined release process. Test windows have been established for reviewing and testing of new features, and changes to existing features and patches.

Patches are released through the periodic OS release cycle in accordance with change and release management procedures. Emergency out-of-band security patches (e.g., Software Security Incident Response Process patches) are expedited for more immediate release.

Securing Edge Sites

All drives and operating systems used for production servers that reside in edge locations are encrypted. The drives have 'Always On' encryption and stay encrypted even during OS patching and updates. In addition, all unused IO ports on production servers that reside in edge locations are disabled by OS-level configurations that are defined in the baseline security configuration. Continuous configuration validation checks are enabled to detect drift in the OS-level configurations.

In addition, intrusion detection switches are enabled to detect physical access of the device. An alert is sent to an operator and the affected servers are shut down and its secrets are revoked. The alerting and tracking follows the incident response process as defined below.

Incident Management

Control Objective 8: Controls provide reasonable assurance that production incidents are identified and responded to in accordance with documented procedures for timely resolution.

Azure has implemented an incident management framework that includes defined processes, roles, communications, responsibilities and procedures for detection, escalation and response to incidents internally and to customers.

Security Incident - Internal Monitoring and Communication

Azure has established incident response procedures and centralized tracking tools which consist of different channels for reporting production system incidents and weaknesses. Automated mechanisms include system monitoring processes for alerting the Azure Live Site, CDOC, and service On-Call teams per defined and configured event, threshold or metric triggers. Incidents may also be reported via email by different Azure or Microsoft groups such as the service and component teams, Azure Support team or datacenter teams. The Azure Live Site, CDOC, and service On-Call teams provide 24x7 event / incident monitoring and response services. The teams assess the health of various components of Azure and datacenters, along with access to detailed information when issues are discovered. Processes are in place to enable temporary access to customer VMs. Access is only granted during, and for the duration of, a specific incident.

Additionally, CDOC conducts yearly tests of the Incident Management SOPs and response capabilities. Reports related to information security events are provided to Azure management on a quarterly basis. Problem statements for systemic issues are submitted to Information Security Management Forum for executive leadership review.

Incident Handling

Azure teams use the established incident classification, escalation and notification process for assessing an incident's criticality and severity, and accordingly escalating to the appropriate groups for timely action. The Azure Live Site and CDOC teams, with assistance from additional Azure teams (e.g., Cloud + AI Security team, component teams for investigation, when necessary), document, track, and coordinate response to incidents. Where required, security incidents are escalated to the privacy, legal or executive management team(s).

Incident Post-Mortem

Post-mortem activities are conducted for customer impacting incidents or incidents with high severity ratings (i.e., levels 0 and 1). The post-mortems are reviewed by the Azure Operations Management team during weekly and monthly review meetings with Azure senior management. Incident and security post-mortem trends are reviewed and evaluated on a periodic basis and, where necessary, the Azure platform or security program may be updated to incorporate improvements identified as a result of incidents.

Network Problem Management

The Networking team comprises Problem Management, Network Escalations, and Network Security teams to identify and address security alerts and incidents. The Networking team is responsible for identifying and analyzing potential problems and issues in the Microsoft Online Services networking environment.

Physical and Environmental Security

Control Objective 9: Control policies and procedures provide reasonable assurance that systems and data are protected against unauthorized physical access and environmental threats.

Datacenter Services

The Datacenter Management team has overall responsibility for the oversight of datacenter operations, including physical security, site services (server deployments and break-fix work), infrastructure build-out, critical environment operations and maintenance, and facilities management. Site Security Officers are responsible for monitoring the physical security of the facility 24x7x365.

Third-party vendors may perform various services in a Microsoft datacenter. For example:

- Mission critical vendors may be responsible for maintaining the datacenter's critical environment equipment.
- Security vendors may manage the site security guard force.
- General facilities management vendors may be responsible for minor building-related services, such as telephones, network, cleaning, trash removal, painting, doors, and locks.
- Site Services may support the Microsoft Online Services operations.

Datacenter Physical Security Management reviews and approves the incident response procedure on a yearly basis. The security incident response procedure details the appropriate steps to be taken in the event of a security incident and the methods to report security weaknesses.

Physical Security

Main access to the datacenter facilities are typically restricted to a single point of entry that is manned by security personnel. The main interior or reception areas have electronic card access control devices on the perimeter door(s), which restrict access to the interior facilities. Rooms within the Microsoft datacenters that contain critical systems (servers, generators, electrical panels, network equipment, etc.) are restricted through various security mechanisms, such as electronic card access control, keyed lock on each individual door, man traps, and / or biometric devices.

Access Controls

The Datacenter Management team has implemented operational procedures to restrict physical access to only authorized employees, contractors, and visitors. Temporary or permanent access requests are tracked using a ticketing system. Badges are either issued or activated for personnel requiring access after verification of identification. The Datacenter Management team is responsible for reviewing datacenter access on a regular basis and for conducting a quarterly audit to verify individual access is still required.

Datacenter Security Personnel

Security personnel in the datacenter conduct the following activities for various datacenter facilities:

1. Man the security desks located at the main entrance of the datacenter
2. Conduct periodic inspections of the datacenter through walkthroughs
3. Respond to fire alarms and safety issues

4. Dispatch security personnel to assist service requests and emergencies
5. Provide Datacenter Management team with periodic updates about security events and entry logs
6. Operate and monitor datacenter surveillance systems

Security Surveillance

Datacenter surveillance systems monitor critical datacenter areas like datacenter main entry / exit, datacenter co-locations entry / exit, cages, locked cabinets, aisle ways, shipping and receiving areas, critical environments, perimeter doors, and parking areas. Surveillance recordings are retained for 90 days or as the local law dictates.

Emergency Power and Facility and Environmental Protection

Microsoft datacenter facilities have power backup and environmental protection systems. Datacenter Management team or the contracted vendor performs regular maintenance and testing of these systems.

Logical Access

Control Objective 10: Controls provide reasonable assurance that logical access to customer data and systems within the Service is restricted.

Customer Data and Systems Access Management (Customers)

Customer Registration

Azure customers register for Azure services by setting up a subscription through the MOCP using a Microsoft Account or Organizational Account. Additionally, depending on the service, customers have the ability to register for the service via the service specific portal. MOCP, including billing and registration, and Microsoft Account / Organizational Account, including password management, are not in scope of this SOC report.

After registration, customers can request the creation of Storage accounts, hosted services, tenants, roles, and role instances within their subscription using the Azure Portal or programmatically through the SMAPI, which is the HTTPS interface exposed to external customers. The SMAPI allows customers to deploy and manage their services and their account. Among other things, this involves the ability to modify hosted services and Storage accounts, pick the geo-location for these accounts and place them in affinity groups, update configurations, 'swap' deployments and in essence, do all the non-creation related deployment / management operations that customers can do through the Azure Portal.

Additionally, customers can utilize the Azure Active Directory Graph API for programmatic access to Azure Active Directory through REST API endpoints. Applications can use the Graph API to perform create, read, update and delete (CRUD) operations on directory data and objects, e.g., common operations for a user object like create new users in directory, get user details, update user properties, and ascertain role-based access for user's group membership. Customers can also use the Azure Active Directory Module for Windows PowerShell cmdlets (provisioning API) to automate a number of deployment and management tasks.

Virtual Machine Customization

Upon creation of a VM, the VM image includes customizations to performance, security and productivity. However, the image may be customized further by the customer to suit their needs. Hardening of the image is the responsibility of the customer.

Identity and Access Management

Access to the Azure subscription through the Azure Portal is controlled by the Microsoft Account / Organizational Account. The ability to authenticate with the Microsoft Account / Organizational Account associated with the Azure subscription grants full control to all of the hosted services and Storage accounts within that subscription.

(Note: Microsoft Account / Organizational Account and its associated authentication mechanisms are not in scope of this SOC report).

User sessions in the Azure portal can be configured by customers to automatically sign the user out of the Azure Portal session after a stipulated period of inactivity, protecting resources from unauthorized activity.

Location awareness technologies are implemented as part of the Azure Portal where location of the machine used for authentication is factored into the validation of the user identity. Where the user identity cannot be validated, Azure Portal would require the user to provide additional information to confirm their identity that could include MFA and / or secondary contact information for verification.

Applications can also access Azure services by using APIs (also known as SMAPI). SMAPI authentication is based on a user-generated public / private key pair and self-signed certificate registered through the Azure Portal. It is the customer's responsibility to safeguard the certificate.

The certificate is then used to authenticate subsequent access to SMAPI. SMAPI queues request to the Fabric, which then provisions, initializes, and manages the required application. Customers can monitor and manage their applications via the Azure Portal or programmatically through SMAPI using the same authentication mechanism.

In addition, customers can enable defined ports and protocols, e.g., RDP or SSH for Linux based services, on their instances and create local user accounts through the Azure Portal or SMAPI for debugging / troubleshooting issues with their applications. Customers are responsible for managing the local user accounts created.

Azure Scheduler and Logic Apps allow users to run jobs such as calling HTTP/S endpoints or posting messages to Azure Storage queues on any schedule. Jobs can be integrated with user applications and can be configured to run immediately, or on a recurring schedule or anytime in the future. Jobs can be configured to call services both inside and outside of Azure. Jobs are processed as per the job settings defined by the customer. In case an error occurs during the processing, the job is retried based on the retry interval as mentioned by the customer. Errors are monitored and appropriate action is taken based on the settings defined by the customer. Jobs configured by customer administrators are executed within thirty (30) minutes of the scheduled job run and are repeated based on the defined recurrence settings.

Azure Automation allows users to create, monitor, manage, and deploy resources in the Azure environment using runbooks. These runbooks can be configured and schedules can be created to automate the manual, long-running, error-prone, and frequently repeated tasks that are commonly performed in a cloud environment.

Services initialize the resource groups within the Azure Portal based on the customer configured templates. A customer tenant can create an Azure Resource Manager using an ARM template. The template deploys and provisions all resources for any application in a single, coordinated operation. In the template, a customer tenant can define the resources that are needed for the application and specify deployment parameters to input values for different environments. The template consists of JSON and expressions which the customer tenant can use to construct values for their deployment.

Access to Customer Virtual Machines

External traffic to customer VMs is protected via ACLs but can be configured by the customer to allow external traffic only to customer designated ports and protocols. There is no port that is open by default unless explicitly configured by the customer in the service definition file. Once configured, the Azure Fabric Controller automatically updates the network traffic rule sets to allow external traffic only to the customer designated ports.

Customers can connect to their VMs via the ports and protocols defined by them, create credentials (i.e., username and password) and choose a certificate to encrypt the credentials during initial set-up. Authentication after set-up is performed using the self-created credentials. The connection is secured via Transport Layer

Security (TLS) using a self-signed certificate generated by the VM instance. Customers can also upload custom certificates via the Azure Portal and configure their instances to use them securely.

Access to Customer Storage Account Data

Access to Azure Storage (i.e., blobs, tables, queues, files and disks) is governed by the SAK that is associated with each Storage account. Access to the SAK provides full control over the data in the Storage account.

Access to Azure Storage data can also be controlled through a Shared Access Signature (SAS). The SAS is created through a query template (URL), signed with the SAK. That signed URL can be given to another process, which can then fill in the details of the query and make the request of the Storage service. Authentication is still based on a signature created using the SAK, but it is sent to the Storage server by a third party. Access using the SAS can be limited in terms of validity time, permission set and what portions of the Storage account are accessible.

Data security beyond the access controls described above, such as fine-grain access controls or encryption, is the responsibility of the customer with exception to Managed Disk where encryption is enabled by default.

Identity and Access Management - Self Service Password Reset

Self-Service Password Reset (SSPR) for users is a feature which allows end-users in customer organization to reset their passwords automatically without calling an administrator or helpdesk for support. SSPR has three main components:

1. Password Reset Policy Configuration Portal - Administrators can control different facets of password reset policy in the Azure Portal.
2. User Registration Portal - Users can self-register for password reset through a web portal.
3. User Password Reset Portal - Users can reset their own passwords using a number of different challenges in accordance with the administrator-controlled password-reset policy.

Customer Administrative Passwords

The One Time Password (OTP) generation module is implemented as a worker role within the Azure AD platform and OTP used for self-service password reset are randomly generated. These OTPs expire after their usage or a pre-defined time limit. OTP generated for email and SMS are validated. Additionally, the OTP values are to be provided within the same session where the OTP was requested.

For the password reset process, the only information displayed within the HTTPS response packets is the masked phone number and cookies required to reset the password. The new passwords supplied by customer administrators within the SSPR portal adhere to the Azure AD password policy requirements. The SSPR portal is only accessible through HTTPS port and the new passwords supplied by the customers are encrypted during transmission over external networks.

This also applies to the initial temporary password generated for the user. These temporary passwords have a pre-defined time limit before it expires and forces users to change it on first usage.

Quotas and Thresholds

Where applicable, quotas are enforced on Azure services as configured by the service administrators. Quota name, the threshold value for the quota, and the behavior on exceeding the quota, have been specified to protect customer entities from availability related issues.

Complementary User Entity Controls

The following list includes complementary user entity controls that Azure assumes its user entities have implemented. User entities' auditors should determine whether the user entities have established sufficient controls in these areas:

Section IV: Information Provided by Independent Service Auditor Except for Control Objectives and Control Activities

Introduction

This report on the description of the system is intended to provide user entities and their auditors with information for their evaluation of the effect of a service organization on a user entity's internal control relating to Microsoft Corporation's (Microsoft) controls over its in-scope services and offerings for Microsoft Azure, Microsoft Dynamics 365, and Microsoft datacenter ("Azure") for the Azure and Azure Government cloud environments, during some or all of the period April 1, 2021 to March 31, 2022.

This section presents the following information provided by Microsoft:

- The control objectives specified by the management of Microsoft.
- The controls established and specified by Microsoft to achieve the specified control objectives.

Also included in this section is the following information provided by Deloitte & Touche LLP:

- A description of the tests performed by Deloitte & Touche LLP to determine whether Microsoft's controls were operating with sufficient effectiveness to achieve specified control objectives. Deloitte & Touche LLP determined the nature, timing, and extent of the testing performed.
- The results of Deloitte & Touche LLP's tests of controls.

Our examination was conducted in accordance with the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants' (AICPA) Statement on Standards for Attestation Engagements No. 18 (SSAE 18) and International Standard on Assurance Engagements 3402, Assurance Reports on Controls at a Service Organization, issued by the International Auditing and Assurance Standards Board, and standard 951 established by the Institut der Wirtschaftsprüfer. SSAE 18 is inclusive of the following: (1) AT-C 105, Concepts Common to all Attestation Engagements; (2) AT-C 205, Examination Engagements; and (3) AT-C 320, Reporting on an Examination of Controls at a Service Organization Relevant to User Entities' Internal Control Over Financial Reporting. Our testing of Microsoft's controls was restricted to the control objectives and related control activities listed in this Section IV and was not extended to controls described in Section III but not included in Section IV, or to controls that may be in effect at user organizations.

It is each user's responsibility to evaluate the information included in this report in relation to internal control in place at individual user entities obtain an understanding and to assess control risk at the user entities. The controls at user entities, and Microsoft's controls should be evaluated together. If effective user entity controls are not in place, Microsoft's controls may not compensate for such weaknesses.

Control environment elements

The control environment sets the tone of an organization, influencing the control consciousness of its people. It is the foundation for other components of internal control, providing discipline and structure. In addition to the tests of design, implementation, and operating effectiveness of controls identified by Microsoft, our procedures included tests of the following relevant elements of Microsoft's control environment:

1. Integrity and Ethical Values
2. Microsoft Standards of Business Conduct

3. Training and Accountability
4. Commitment to Competence
5. Compliance & Ethics, Internal Audit, Audit Committee
6. Risk Assessment
7. Monitoring
8. Information and Communication

Such tests included inquiry of the appropriate management, supervisory, and staff personnel; observation of Microsoft's activities and operations, inspection of Microsoft's documents and records, and re-performance of the application of Microsoft's controls. The results of these tests were considered in planning the nature, timing, and extent of our testing of the control activities described in this section.

Controls within the control environment have been categorized into the following domains:

1. Information Security (IS)
2. Operator Access (OA)
3. Data Security (DS)
4. Change Management (CM)
5. Security Development Lifecycle (SDL)
6. Vulnerability Management (VM)
7. Incident Management (IM)
8. Physical and Environmental Security (PE)
9. Logical Access (LA)
10. Additional Edge Sites Logical Access Controls (ED)

Tests of operating effectiveness

Our tests of the controls were designed to cover a representative number of transactions throughout the period from April 1, 2021 to March 31, 2022. In determining the nature, timing and extent of tests, we considered, (a) the nature and frequency of the controls being tested, (b) the types of available evidential matter, (c) the nature of the control objectives to be met, (d) the assessed level of control risk, (e) the expected effectiveness of the test, and (f) the results of our tests of the control environment.

Description of testing procedures performed

Deloitte & Touche LLP performed a variety of tests relating to the controls listed in this section throughout the period from April 1, 2021 to March 31, 2022. Our tests of controls were performed on controls as they existed during the period April 1, 2021 to March 31, 2022 and were applied to those controls relating to control objectives specified by Microsoft.

In addition to the tests listed below, ascertained through multiple inquiries with management and the control owner that each control activity listed below operated as described throughout the period. Tests performed are described below:

Test	Description
Corroborative Inquiry	Conducted detailed interviews with relevant personnel to obtain evidence that the control was in operation during the report period and is accompanied by other procedures noted below that are necessary to corroborate the information derived from the inquiry.
Observation	Observed the performance of the control during the report period to evidence application of the specific control activity.
Examination of documentation/Inspection	If the performance of the control is documented, inspected documents and reports indicating performance of the control.
Reperformance of monitoring activities or manual controls	Obtained documents used in the monitoring activity or manual control activity and independently reperformed the procedures. Compared any exception items identified with those identified by the responsible control owner.
Reperformance of programmed processing	Input test data, manually calculated expected results, and compared actual results of processing to expectations.

Reliability of information produced by the Service Organization

We performed procedures to evaluate whether the information provided by Microsoft, which includes (a) information provided by Microsoft to the service auditor in response to ad hoc requests from the service auditor (e.g., population lists); (b) information used in the execution of a control (e.g., exception reports or transaction reconciliations); and (c) information prepared for user entities (e.g., user access lists), was sufficiently reliable for our purposes by obtaining evidence about the accuracy and completeness of such information and evaluating whether the information was sufficiently precise and detailed for our purposes. Information we utilized as evidence may have included, but was not limited to:

- Standard “out of the box” reports as configured within the system
- Parameter-driven reports generated by Microsoft’s systems
- Custom-developed reports that are not standard to the application such as scripts, report writers, and queries
- Spreadsheets that include relevant information utilized for the performance or testing of a control
- Analysis, schedules, or other evidence manually prepared and utilized by Microsoft

Our procedures to evaluate whether this information was sufficiently reliable included obtaining evidence regarding the accuracy and completeness included procedures to address (a) the accuracy and completeness of source data and (b) the creation and modification of applicable report logic and parameters. While these procedures were not specifically called out in the test procedures listed in this section, they were completed as a component of our testing to support the evaluation of whether or not the information is sufficiently precise and detailed for purposes of fully testing the controls identified by Microsoft.

Reporting on results of testing

The concept of materiality is not applied when reporting the results of tests of controls for which deviations have been identified because Deloitte & Touche LLP does not have the ability to determine whether a deviation will be relevant to a particular user entity. Consequently, Deloitte & Touche LLP reports all deviations.

Section V: Supplemental Information Provided by Microsoft

Section V: Supplemental Information Provided by Microsoft

The following information is provided for informational purposes only and has not been subjected to the procedures applied in the examination. Accordingly, Deloitte & Touche LLP expresses no opinion on the following information.

Azure Compliance

Microsoft Azure supports compliance with a broad set of industry-specific laws and meets broad international standards. Azure has ISO 27001, ISO 27017, ISO 27018, ISO 22301, and ISO 9001 certifications, PCI DSS Level 1 validation, SOC 1 Type 2 and SOC 2 Type 2 attestations, HIPAA Business Associate Agreement, and HITRUST certification. Operated and maintained globally, Microsoft Azure is regularly and independently verified for compliance with industry and international standards, and provides customers the foundation to achieve compliance for their applications. More information is available from the Azure Compliance site.

Infrastructure Redundancy and Data Durability

Azure mitigates the risk of outages due to failures of individual devices, such as hard drives or even entire servers through the following:

- Data durability of Azure Storage (Blobs (including Azure Data Lake Storage Gen2), Disks, Files, Queues, Tables) including Cool and Premium, facilitated by maintaining redundant copies of data on different drives located across fully independent physical storage subsystems. Copies of data are continually scanned to detect and repair bit rot.
- Cloud Services availability, maintained by deploying roles on isolated groupings of hardware and network devices known as fault domains. The health of each compute instance is continually monitored and roles are automatically relocated to new fault domains in the event of a failure.
- Network load balancing, automatic OS and service patching is built into Azure. The Azure application deployment model also upgrades customer applications without downtime by using upgrade domains, a concept similar to fault domains, which helps ascertain that only a portion of the service is updated at a time.

Data Backup and Recovery

In addition to the core data durability built into Azure, Azure provides customers with a feature to capture and store point-in-time backups of their stored Azure data. This allows customers to protect their applications from an event of corruption or unwanted modification or deletion of its data.

Microsoft Azure E.U. Data Protection Directive

Microsoft offers contractual commitments for the safeguarding of customer data as part of the Online Services Terms (OST) Microsoft Licensing Terms and Documentation:

- A Data Processing Agreement that details our compliance with the E.U. Data Protection Directive and related security requirements for Azure core features within ISO / IEC 27001:2013 scope.
- E.U. Model Contractual Clauses that provide additional contractual guarantees around transfers of personal data for Azure core features within ISO / IEC 27001:2013 scope.

Management's Response to Exceptions Noted

The table below contains Management's response to the exceptions identified in Section IV - Information Provided by Independent Service Auditor Except for Control Objectives and Control Activities above.

Control ID	Control Activity	Exception Noted	Management Response
OA - 3	Procedures to automatically disable Active Directory (AD) accounts and manually remove any non-AD accounts upon user's leave date are in place.	A total of 28 samples for access revocation to production domains and 34 samples for access revocation to the corporate domain (Active Directory) were tested during the portion of the period April 1, 2021 to September 30, 2021. Out of the samples tested during this period, 3 users did not have their access to production and corporate (Active Directory) domains revoked in a timely manner. Sampled 8 more users each for access revocation to production and corporate domains subsequent to September 30, 2021 and no additional exceptions were noted.	The accounts were not terminated timely due to upstream HR dependencies. The managers did not submit the termination date in the HR system timely. Shortly after the termination date was entered, the Active Directory and domain accounts were automatically disabled. For the sampled accounts, management confirmed there was no access to production resources subsequent to the termination date. As such, management deems there was no risk as a result of the exception.

Control ID	Control Activity	Exception Noted	Management Response
OA - 15	Passwords used to access Azure network devices are restricted to authorized individuals based on job responsibilities and changed on a periodic basis.	For eight of 25 sampled network devices, evidence related to password rotation was not retained and not available for inspection to corroborate that the passwords were changed on a periodic basis.	Two of the eight sampled network devices identified as exceptions required an additional approval that delayed the rotation. The remaining six devices were affected by a bug in the automated workflow which prevented the password rotation for these network devices to be within the expected frequency. Management has committed to implement a process to monitor and detect for bugs that cause the workflow to fail and remediate in a timely manner. In addition, Azure Compliance has implemented a periodic review to detect devices that need to be prioritized by the service team for password rotation. Although evidence of password rotation could not be provided, the affected accounts are break-glass accounts that can only be accessed when the central authentication system is down. At no point during the audit period was the authentication system down, therefore no accounts could have been accessed. As such, management deems there was no risk as a result of the exception.
DS - 1	Cryptographic certificates, keys, and customer access keys used for communication between Azure services and other internal components are stored securely and are rotated on a periodic basis.	One of 15 sampled secrets during the portion of the period April 1, 2021 to September 30, 2021, was not rotated as per the secret's rotation cadence defined in the documented procedures. Sampled 12 secrets subsequent to September 30, 2021 and no additional exceptions were noted.	The secret noted was a connection string to a database containing non-customer related metadata created for migration purposes prior to the audit period. After migration was completed, the service team no longer used the secret and was retained in an encrypted storage platform. The service team inspected their production environment and verified the connection string was not being utilized. The service team has since deleted the connection string and will remove all decommissioned secrets from the repository to avoid recurrence of the finding. As such, management deems there was no risk as a result of the exception.

VM - 5	Procedures to evaluate and implement Microsoft-released patches to Service components have been established.	A total of 53 server-patch samples related to manual patching process were tested. Out of the samples tested, deployment of one server-patch sample was delayed and did not meet the patch deployment timelines defined in the documented procedures. In addition, two server-patch samples were missing during the examination period.	The three server-patch samples are all up-to-date and running the latest versions. An analysis was performed over the periods where the patches were missing to confirm there were no incidents that would have been prevented by installing the missing patches. The service teams have updated their patching process to adhere to the timely installation of patches.
CM - 13	Any changes to production via break-glass have been reviewed to ensure all changes were appropriate.	For six of the total population of 100 break-glass alerts, evidence of review by a team member who did not perform the break-glass operation was not retained to verify if appropriate changes were made to the production environment.	Azure Compliance performed a look back analysis over the one year audit period and a total of six instances where evidence of a secondary review was not retained. For those six instances, evidence was provided showing the actions performed during the break glass sessions were pre-planned and approved by other members of the team prior to the break-glass sessions. The activities performed in each instance were administrative that did not involve any code changes and an automated incident ticket was generated and made available for the broader team to review. Azure Compliance team has implemented periodic monitoring to detect if a secondary review did not occur in a more timely manner.
