RE: Request for Abandon of ROW
10ft wide alleyway lies within block 8 of Bryan Subdivision
Plat Book 1, page 18 within the City of Fort Lauderdale.

Roya:

This letter shall serve as notice that AT&T Florida has no objection to the above mention abandonment. However, the owner/ developer must assume any cost associated with the relocation of utilities if required, and a new recorded easement will need to be dedicated to encompass the existing AT&T facilities, and to allow AT&T to provide service to the proposed and/or existing properties in the future.

Please contact me for any additional information you may require in this regard.

Re:
100 N AVE OF THE ARTS RIGHT OF WAY VACATION

Dear ROYA EDWARDS,

FPL has no objection to abandoning or vacating the above requested easement.

However, FPL has existing overhead facilities and utility easements at this site. FPL will remove our existing facilities and vacate the existing easement at this location at the customer's expense. Prior to this being done, provisions must be made, new easements secured and facilities constructed to serve any existing FPL customers that may be affected by your request.

FPL will require a complete set of plans prior to construction. These would include the survey of property, site plan, water sewer & drainage, paving, and electrical plans. As the FPL engineering process takes about three to four months, it is imperative that complete plans be provided well in advance of construction.

Please contact me at 954 717 2062 should you have any questions or concerns.

Yours truly,
