Value Type and Definition:

Market Value is the price at which the property would change hands between a willing buyer and a willing seller, neither being under any compulsion to accept the sale and both having reasonable knowledge of relevant facts. The market value of a particular interest in property is not to be determined by a forced sale price. Nor is the fair market value of property the same price in the market other than that in which such item is most commonly sold to the public, taking into account the location of the item wherever appropriate." Paraphased from Treas. Reg. §20.2031-1(b)

Florida Court Definition: "Market Value is the price that a seller willing, but not compelled to sell, and a buyer, not compelled to buy, would agree to in fair negotiations with knowledge of all the facts." Paraphased from Fla. Power & Light Co., v. Jennings, 518 So.2d 895 (Fla. 1987)

Date of Appraisal (Value): December 2, 2020

Date of Report: December 14,2020

Scope of Work:

The appraisal purpose is to develop an opinion of current market value of the property at 724 NW 15th Way, Ft. Lauderdale, Florida 33311. Jesse Vance, MAI, and Claudia Vance, MAI viewed the property and photographed it. A thorough investigation was made into the physical and economic characteristics of the property that could affect its market value. Research was conducted to ascertain economic factors that might influence value. Data research consisted of collecting, confirming, and reporting similar sale and rental properties. The process included searches and analyses, inspections, confirmations, and final reporting. The appraisers examined several sources of sales data, including CCIM records in "The Site to Do Business", CoStar Group, Loopnet, County Property Appraiser Records, the public records, and data from the appraiser's plant. The appropriate valuation methodology for valuing the subject property is direct comparison with similar land sales since the improvements have reached the end of their economic and useful life and contribute on value to the site.

SALES COMPARISON APPROACH LAND VALUATION

Of the several methods to develop an opinion of land value, the one considered most reliable is the Sales Comparison Approach. In this method, sales of similar vacant parcels are compared to the site concerned; then adjusted for differences to arrive at land value.

The steps of Sales Comparison in Land Valuation are:

- 1) Locate and collect information of recent sales of sites most similar to the land being appraised.
- 2) Verify the sales information with reliable sources, including details of financing and any special considerations or non-typical market features.
- 3) Select relevant units of comparison and develop a comparative analysis.
- 4) Compare and adjust the sales to the subject using significant, market-derived units of comparison.
- 5) Reconcile all value indications from the comparisons into a value opinion by this approach.

The tract concerned contains 5,625 square feet. It is zoned "RD-15", Medium Density District in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. Highest and best use of the site is to improve it with single-family residences, duplexes, or townhouses. The appraised property is located in near NW Fort Lauderdale, Florida. It is in an area where older, single-family houses on smaller are being demolished for new construction if a parcel of land of sufficient size can be acquired or assembled.

A search was conducted to find land sales that were or could be improved with the cited permitted uses. Three land sales are cited in the immediate subject market area. Details of the transactions are on the sale sheets and comparison chart in this report.

The unit of comparison used by buyers and sellers of this type land is the Sale Price per Square Foot of Land. The range of unit prices of the land sales is from $7.59 per square foot to $9.00 per square foot, before adjustments.

ELEMENTS OF COMPARISON

Elements of comparison are the characteristics of transactions and properties that cause variation in prices paid for real estate. The Appraisal of Real Estate states that there are several basic elements of comparison that may be considered in sales comparison analysis for land valuation. The first group is termed transactional elements being: real property rights conveyed, financing terms, conditions of sale, and market conditions. Adjustments for transactional elements are made, then, attention is focused on the second group, property elements. This second group of property elements consists of location, physical characteristics and use.

SALES COMPARISON APPROACH

Real Property Rights Conveyed

A transaction price is always predicated on the real property interest conveyed. Property interests conveyed can either be fee simple (without tenants) or leased fee (subject to leases). An adjustment for property rights conveyed is based on whether a leased fee interest was sold with leases at, below, or above market rent. The interest valued for the subject property is fee simple. The land sales were all conveyances of fee simple interests without leases. No adjustment is necessary for this element of comparison.

Financing Terms

Financing terms may have a bearing on the price paid for a property. Such terms that may affect price include assuming a mortgage at lower than current interest rates, the seller paying a buydown for the buyer to have a lower interest rate, or the seller providing financing for a transaction at lower than typical institutional rates. In all of these cases, the buyer could have paid higher prices in such transactions to obtain favorable financing. The reverse is also a possibility in which lower sale prices result from above market financing.

All of the land sales were cash purchases. No adjustment is required for this condition.

Conditions of Sale

Condition of sale addresses the motivation of buyers and sellers. Such motivations include a seller accepting a lower than market price for needed cash, a lender selling a previously foreclosed property to comply with regulations imposed on the institution, or a buyer purchasing an adjacent property. Even arm's length transactions may be the result of atypical motivation, such as lack of exposure time to the market, the result of an eminent domain proceeding, or tax consideration.

Each of the land sales was exposed to the open market for a reasonable time and was the result of sellers negotiating for the highest prices and buyers negotiating for the lowest prices. Grantees of the sales purchased the parcels for specific uses of medium density residential development. Conditions of sale for the transactions were typical for the market they are in, with no adjustment necessary.

Market Conditions

Comparable sales that occurred under different market conditions than those applicable to the subject on the effective date of the value estimate require adjustment for any differences that affect their value. The most common adjustment for market condition is time; however, the passage of time itself is not the cause of the adjustment. Market conditions which change over time are the reason to make the adjustment, such as appreciation or depreciation due to building inventory, changes in tax laws, investor's criteria, building moratoriums, fluctuation in supply and demand, et cetera. It is also possible that there is no change in market condition over time.

There is an upward trend in land unit prices due in large part to scarcity of vacant parcels or in those where old improvements could be razed. The upward trend exceeds the annual inflation rate at 3% per year. Each of the land sales is adjusted upward for market conditions to the effective date of appraisal. The amounts of the adjustments are shown on the comparison chart in this report.

Adjustments for transactional elements of comparison were considered; now, property elements of comparison are addressed.

SALES COMPARISON APPROACH

Location

The location of a property is a key factor in prompting a buyer to purchase it. Location encompasses many aspects such as road frontage, access, proximity to other competing properties, proximity to a market that will use the goods and services housed in a property, governmental influences, zoning, average daily traffic flow, etc. Typically, properties in a neighborhood share some of the same locational characteristics such as age, condition, and style.

There are no significant differences to adjust; hence, none are made.

Physical Characteristics

Physical characteristics to be considered for adjustments are those that cause a difference in price to be paid by the market. A wide range of such items includes land size, shape, frontage, depth, topography, view, access, functional utility, degree of readiness for development, et cetera.

The physical characteristics of the appraised site and the land sales are alike in that they are all small, parcels with basically rectangular shapes. Their views are of residential streets in older neighborhoods. The physical characteristics of the subject and land sales are similar enough that no adjustment is necessary for this element of comparison.

Use

For sites to be comparable, they should have similar uses. The highest and best use for the land appraised and the land sales is medium density residential. No further adjustments are made for this element of comparison.

FINAL VALUATION

The adjusted unit prices for the land sales are:

Land Sale No.	Adjusted Price/ SF
1	$8.50
2	$7.86
3	$9.29

The range of the adjusted land sale prices is from $7.86 to $9.29 per square foot. The range is illustrative of the spread of sale prices sellers are willing to accept for their properties. Most sellers have owned the properties for a long period of time and finally decided to sell them. Since the sites are small the price of the land has less significance in the cost to build a new project. Therefore, equal weight is placed on each of the adjusted unit prices. The unit value of the appraised land is $8.55 per square foot.

The quantity of the comparable data is sufficient to have an overview of the market for smaller sites for medium density residential development in the subject area. The quality of the data is good in that it provides a sound basis to develop an opinion of value for the land under appraisal. Based on the analysis and conclusions presented within the report, it is our opinion that the Market Value of the Fee Simple Estate of the Subject Property as of December 2, 2020 is:

5,625 square feet x $8.55 per square foot = (rounded to) $48,100

FORTY-EIGHT THOUSAND ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS

Exposure Time prior to attaining the Value Cited is: One Year

RECONCILIATION
FINAL VALUE

RECONCILIATION AND FINAL VALUE OPINION

LAND VALUE BY SALES COMPARISON APPROACH	$48,100
FINAL PROPERTY MARKET VALUE	$48,100

---

Given that the improvements are at the end of their economic and useful life, the subject of this appraisal is the 5,625 square feet of “RD-15” land remaining.

In the Sales Comparison Approach, a search was made to find sales of the most similar land in the subject market area. Three such sales were found and compared to the property under appraisal. Considering the factors discussed in Sales Comparison Approach, the value of the subject land is $48,100.

The Cost Approach is not applicable for valuing vacant land.

The quantity of comparable data is sufficient to have an overview of the market for similar vacant land properties. The quality of data is good in that it provides a sound basis to develop an opinion of value for the property under appraisal.

The value opinion by the Sales Comparison Approach reflects most probable current property market value. Based on the analyses and conclusions presented within the report, it is our opinion that the Market Value of the subject property on December 2, 2020 (Date of Inspection) is: $48,100

Forty Eight Thousand One Hundred Dollars

Exposure Time to sell the Subject Property prior to attaining the valued amount is:
Approximately One Year.

RD-15 district is intended to provide areas within the city for single family detached dwellings and for duplex units or two family residences where two units are either attached or semi-attached. The RD-15 district permits single family dwelling units including zero lot line dwellings and cluster dwellings designed in a manner that is compatible and complementary to the surrounding area. This provides for a more efficient use of land resources by allowing for a modification of yards to provide for innovative site design and open space on lots which, because of their size and/or configuration, could not be efficiently used otherwise. The RD-15 district has a maximum density of 15 dwelling units per net acre, which is consistent with the density permitted by the residential medium category of the city's comprehensive plan.
