- a. March Waterway cleanup 88 people participated and 20 boats.
- b. Lauderdale Isle newsletter in the March issues a survey was conducted about how people felt about the entrance signs. Another question was, do you support the continued efforts of code enforcement to cite oversized boats, delict boats, and dilapidated decks, there was 100% vote of yes. The other question was how you feel about vacation rentals, 65% in total opposed and 31% said should be allowed. Those that voted should be allowed all wrote these comments, should be allowed with better regulation, more rules and policies, and better enforcement. Warren Sturman asked about the status of people who live on docks and Geoff stated that Marco has been taken care of them as he discovers them.

3. Treasurer's Reports

2. Geoff mentioned the water testing is too expensive, but there should be testing because they are the first ones on the river.
3. Earl Prizlee discussed Lauderdale Isles Community Center:
 - a. The voting on the earmarked land acquisition will take place in May. Earl will insist they are a part of the scoping services to develop the project agreement. Warren asked if anyone had heard from the owners of the yacht club. Earl has reached out to them but there seems to be a language barrier. As of now it appears they have no interest in opening the yacht club.
4. Geoff and Earl have been working to repeal the vacation rentals legislation.
5. Geoff will put educational information in the next newsletter regarding derelict boats. In the article it will provide a link to the FWC about how to remove a derelict boat.
6. Future Meetings:
 - a. Future meetings:
