SAVE THE FORT LAUDERDALE RAIN TREE

By Jessica Kross (Contact)

To be delivered to: Fort Lauderdale City Commission and CITY HALL, CITY OF FORT LAUDERDALE, Fort Lauderdale, FL 33301

PETITION STATEMENT

SAVE THE FORT LAUDERDALE RAIN TREE!!!

Fort Lauderdale's Magnificent Rain Tree ("THE RAIN TREE") on the New River is a NATIONAL Treasure! In 1872 the Tree was Declared a Florida Champion for being the largest of its kind in the State and is perhaps the LARGEST OF ITS KIND in the ENTIRE UNITED STATES.

The FORT LAUDERDALE Rain Tree is 60 FOOT HIGH (ABOUT FIVE STORIES HIGH!), The Crown at the is 127.5 Feet in Diameter! Rain Trees have the largest Crowns of Any trees on Earth! THE GIRTH OF ITS TRUNK IS 19.5 FEET!

The Rain Tree is believed to be between 80 to 90 years old and to have been planted by City pioneers, it is located at 424 SW 4th Avenue on a 160 Foot Wide lot on the South Side of the New River, opposite Fort Lauderdale's Historic District and RiverWalk.

WHAT IS A RAIN TREE: A Movie Star - The 200 Foot Wide Rain Tree was Featured in Walk Disney's "Swiss Family Robinson."

In 1987 The Fort Lauderdale City Commission declared the "FORT LAUDERDALE RAIN TREE" PROTECTED against REMOVAL or DAMAGE.

A DEVELOPER WANTS TO BUILD CONDOMINIUMS "Marina Lofts" ON THE LOT THE RAIN TREE LIVES ON, on the eco-sensitive New River, already home to multiple condominiums - many of which are in foreclosure and whose units are EMPTY. The RAIN TREE is Stunningly beautiful, Stunningly Large and can only truly be appreciated by standing beneath it under its giant crown. IT IS Supposed to be a PROTECTED tree!!

The Developer wants to MOVE this tree to a too-small 90' lot next to a warehouse and away from the River.

The Only Experts who say the Tree will survive a move are the EXPERTS BEING PAID FOR BY THE DEVELOPER. THE ONLY ONES WHO SAY THE TREE WILL SURVIVE the move itself and will survive on the too small lot the Developer plans to Move this tree too are the Experts Paid for By the Developer.

THE CITY'S OWN ARBORISTS HAVE DELCARED THE TREE WILL MOST LIKELY NOT SURVIVE A MOVE and is too large to survive being transplanted to a 90 Foot Lot.

The Previous Developer's Plan: NO TRANSPLANT. After a year of study he decided it was best to leave the Tree alone!

IF THE FORT LAUDERDALE RAIN TREE IS MOVED THE DEVELOPERS OF MARINA LOFTS ENDANGERS ITS EXISTENCE.

THE CITY'S OWN ARBORISTS HAVE DELCARED THE TREE WILL MOST LIKELY NOT SURVIVE A MOVE and cannot thrive on a 90 foot lot, the crown will reach across the street and over neighboring buildings. There is just not enough room.

FACT: The largest Tree EVER transplanted: In California "Old Glory" 23.5 feet NARROWER, 3 feet shorter, with a truck of about 3 to 4 feet smaller around than our Rain Tree.

#Source: Guinness Book of World Records#

THE Developer will Not alter his Plans to incorporate or include the tree in his plans for building another condominium. He will not entertain that the RAIN TREE be included as a valuable, viable, beautiful and life giving PART of his whole plan! And the Rain Tree is a Treasure. If he leaves the Rain Tree where it is with his Current plans the Rain Tree will have too much Shade, its enormous beautiful crown must have sunlight, and this will mostly likely result in the death of the Rain Tree. Unthinkable.

PLEASE SIGN OUR PETITION TO THE FORT LAUDERDALE CITY COMMISSIONION TO:

1. STAND BY THE WORD OF THEIR PREDECESSORS AND CONTINUE TO PROTECT THE RAIN TREE FROM REMOVAL OR DAMAGE OR WORSE.
2. DENY the developer permission to transplant this tree and endanger its life and encourage the Developer if he must build to build to incorporate the Rain Tree as an integral part of his plans.
3. ENSURE that the tree is well protected during any construction that may take place at or near the site.
4. ENSURE THAT THE PROTECTION GRANTED THIS TREE IS HONORED.

The City of Fort Lauderdale once had 36 Protected Trees. IT NOW HAS only 12 LEFT - AND IF THE RAIN TREE IS MOVED, DAMAGED AND ITS HOME AND SUSTENANCE NOT PROTECTED - WE MAY BE DOWN TO 11! THIS IS NOT PROTECTION!!!

THE FORT LAUDERDALE RAIN TREE DESERVES THE PROTECTION IT HAS BEEN GRANTED. IT IS ONE OF THE LARGEST RAIN TREES IN THE WORLD!

Please sign this Petition to Save the Rain Tree, not just for the City of Fort Lauderdale but for the Magnificent RAIN TREE that it is, and possibly the Second Largest in the World. For ALL Trees. Please sign.

Petition Background

THE FORT LAUDERDALE RAIN TREE IS A NATIONAL TREASURE!

In 1987 The Fort Lauderdale City Commission declared the "FORT LAUDERDALE RAIN TREE" PROTECTED" against REMOVAL or DAMAGE.

A DEVELOPER WANTS TO BUILD CONDOMINIUMS where the RAIN TREE LIVES and wants to MOVE this tree to a too-small 90' lot next to a warehouse and away from the River.

THE DEVELOPER OF "Marina Lofts" will not alter their plans to keep the tree safely ON THE LOT THE RAIN TREE LIVES ON, on the eco-sensitive New River, already home to multiple condominiums - many of which are in foreclosure and whose units are EMPTY. IT IS "Supposed to be" a PROTECTED TREE!

The Only Experts who say the Tree will survive a move are the EXPERTS BEING PAID BY THE DEVELOPER and they are THE ONLY ONES WHO SAY THE RAIN TREE CAN SURVIVE on this too small lot.

IF THE FORT LAUDERDALE RAIN TREE IS MOVED THE DEVELOPERS OF MARINA LOFTS ENDANGERS ITS EXISTENCE.

Hey this tree has seen a lot of history and survive storms why cut it down, I have moved down here and saw lots and lots of trees removed so there would be a cement building to replace it, this tree belongs to Ft. Lauderdale.

if you try to "relocate" this tree, there is NO guarantee of its survival rate. it is already a national treasure by being a beautiful gift to our planet, why grant someone with money who is not a national treasure anything and who offers nothing to this planet but refuse. Allow this rain tree its beauty and solitude and let it stay and be part of your community where it is for another 80-90 years in happiness.

please leave the tree where it is. do not let developers destroy a one of natures most beautiful gifts. an extraordinary living thing such as this tree should be cherished and viewed as a historical/preserved landmark. if this tree were to be moved, its highly likely the tree would not be able to survive the transplant, especially if moved to the suggested lot [which does not have the ability to sustain such a large natural growth]. please consider the livelihood and well being of MOTHER NATURE before considering the money you hope to make by moving this tree. open your eyes to see that nature is not something to be played with, but rather a force to be respected and left alone.

You can't relocate a tree successfully, you just can't, the roots will be too damaged and the symbiotic relationships that the tree relies on (mycorrhizal especially) won't be there in the new location. We are passed the time when we can lose trees like this, we don't have enough left. There is nothing stopping the developer, if he MUST build more housing, from making it a feature in the structure.

Please convey some fundamentals to that idiot developer: Every year our atmosphere loses around 10 billion cubic metres of oxygen, replacing it with carbon dioxide. Our industries, what may be called our technosphere, consumes about 20 times more oxygen than all living organisms put together. In other words, our supply is being depleted. Knowing this should help us appreciate the vital contributions made by trees. During the course of its life, an average 100 year old tree will have made available 6,600 kilograms of oxygen for living creatures. A single tree such as a mature Beech can produce enough oxygen for 10 people for a year. Cut down a Beech and you condemn 10 people. Cut down a hundred and you condemn a village. Cut down a forest and you are committing genocide; aside from destroying wild-life habitats. Cut down woods and forests and replace them with factories and housing estates, you are doing no service to humankind. You are a blight, not a blessing, on civilization; and the face of this Earth.

Trees Soak Up Carbon Dioxide

During the course of its life, a single average 100 year old tree (see below) will have fixed the amount of carbon dioxide (CO₂) contained in 18 million cubic metres of air in the form of about 2,500 kilograms of pure carbon. Soviet experts have calculated that a hectare of well-working forestry annually absorbs about 6.5 tons of carbon dioxide while releasing 3.5 to 5 tons of oxygen. The performance of different species varies of course. One acre of American Sycamore can extract 3 tonnes of carbon from the atmosphere per year. Plantations of Poplars absorb 7 times more carbon dioxide than conifers. "Forests have to be planted on every free acre of land. This is the best ecological antidote against the anthropogenic contamination of the atmosphere," says Rem Bobrov, Deputy Minister of Forestry of the Russian Federation. "By increasing the acreage of forests and regulating the species composition ... we can not only halt but also reverse the process of atmospheric contamination with carbon dioxide and restore oxygen to the atmosphere. Through their roots they draw up moisture from deep levels and discharge it into the atmosphere through their leaves. This is vital in dry weather, not only moistening but cooling the air. How much they are able to discharge depends, naturally, on the combined area of their leaves. A mature beech has up to 7,000,000 leaves with an area of 1.47 evaporative hectares. Standing alone in the open, such a tree can give out around 100 gallons of water a day, about 450 litres. Thus, in the Earth's water cycles, trees act as pumps. They create zones of moisture above them. If forest cover was more widespread they would be able to distribute water-vapour more evenly through the atmosphere. Further, they attract greater precipitation. The rainfall where trees grow can sometimes be 30 per cent heavier than over woodless areas. They protect watersheds and mountain springs, and generally keep the water table high. Where they do not exist and, therefore, cannot perform their vital functions, lands turn to deserts. Trees affect airflow, temperature and humidity; function as air-conditioners; protect against abnormal extremes of climate; while generally militating against the Greenhouse Effect. In their gentle but persistent way, they are a primary means of defence against Global Warming. The following are calculations by Walter Schauburger, son of the famous visionary forester, Viktor Schauburger, which he made in the 1970s in relation to a 100 year old tree, a European species of average output. During the course of its life, this 100 year old tree has: Produced and fixed the amount of carbon dioxide (CO₂) contained in 18 million cubic metres of natural air in the form of about 2500 kilograms of pure carbon (C). Photochemically converted 9,100 kilograms of carbon dioxide (CO₂) and 3,700 litres of water (H₂O). Stored up about 23 million kilogram-calories (a calorific value equivalent to 3,500 kilograms of hard pit coal). Made available for the respiration of human and beast 6,600 kilograms of molecular oxygen (O₂). Drawn from its roots right up to its crown (against the forces of gravity) and evaporated into the atmosphere at least 2,500 tonnes of water. (Every tree is therefore a water-column and if such a column, which continually supplies and recharges the atmosphere with water, is cut down, then this amount of water is lost.) Thereby fixing a mechanical equivalent of heat equal to the calorific value of 2,500 kilograms of coal. Supplied a member of the consumer society with oxygen sufficient for 20 years.

You cannot move a tree this size. That will kill it. Don't pretend this isn't true. There is no need to move the tree if there is available property. Re-use the condominiums already in existence. Trees are a vital part of why someone decides to live at a property. Leave the tree and reap more benefits. Any developer who cannot recognize historical value within a city should not be allowed to build there. Killing trees is bad for properties, period.

Fort Lauderdale's Magnificent Rain Tree ("THE RAIN TREE") on the New River is a NATIONAL Treasure! In 1872 the Tree was Declared a Florida Champion for being the largest of its kind in the State and is perhaps the LARGEST OF ITS KIND in the ENTIRE UNITED STATES. The FORT LAUDERDALE Rain Tree is 60 FOOT HIGH (ABOUT FIVE STORIES HIGH!), The Crown at the is 127.5 Feet in Diameter! Rain Trees have the largest Crowns of Any trees on Earth! THE GIRTH OF ITS TRUNK IS 19.5 FEET! The Rain Tree is believed to be between 80 to 90 years old and to have been planted by City pioneers, it is located at 424 SW 4th Avenue on a 160 Foot Wide lot on the South Side of the New River, opposite Fort Lauderdale's Historic District and RiverWalk. WHAT IS A RAIN TREE: A Movie Star - The 200 Foot Wide Rain Tree was Featured in Walt Disney's "Swiss Family Robinson." In 1987 The Fort Lauderdale City Commission declared the "FORT LAUDERDALE RAIN TREE" PROTECTED against REMOVAL or DAMAGE. A DEVELOPER WANTS TO BUILD CONDOMINIUMS "Marina Lofts" ON THE LOT THE RAIN TREE LIVES ON, on the eco-sensitive New River, already home to multiple condominiums - many of which are in foreclosure and whose units are EMPTY. The RAIN TREE is Stunningly beautiful, Stunningly Large and can only truly be appreciated by standing beneath it under its giant crown. IT IS Supposed to be a PROTECTED tree!! The Developer wants to MOVE this tree to a too-small 90' lot next to a warehouse and away from the River. The Only Experts who say the Tree will survive a move are the EXPERTS BEING PAID FOR BY THE DEVELOPER. THE ONLY ONES WHO SAY THE TREE WILL SURVIVE the move itself and will survive on the too small lot the Developer plans to Move this tree too are the Experts Paid for By the Developer. THE CITY'S OWN ARBORISTS HAVE DECLARED THE TREE WILL MOST LIKELY NOT SURVIVE A MOVE and is too large to survive being transplanted to a 90 Foot Lot. The Previous Developer's Plan: NO TRANSPLANT. After a year of study he decided it was best to leave the Tree alone! IF THE FORT LAUDERDALE RAIN TREE IS MOVED THE DEVELOPERS OF MARINA LOFTS ENDANGERS ITS EXISTENCE. THE CITY'S OWN ARBORISTS HAVE DECLARED THE TREE WILL MOST LIKELY NOT SURVIVE A MOVE and cannot thrive on a 90 foot lot, the crown will reach across the street and over neighboring buildings. There is just not enough room. FACT: The largest Tree EVER transplanted: In California "Old Glory" 23.5 feet NARROWER, 3 feet shorter, with a trunk of about 3 to 4 feet smaller around than our Rain Tree. #Source: Guinness Book of World Records# THE Developer will Not alter his Plans to incorporate or include the tree in his plans for building another condominium. He will not entertain that the RAIN TREE be included as a valuable, viable, beautiful and life giving PART of his whole plan! And the Rain Tree is a Treasure. If he leaves the Rain Tree where it is with his Current plans the Rain Tree will have too much Shade, its enormous beautiful crown must have sunlight, and this will mostly likely result in the death of the Rain Tree. Unthinkable. PLEASE SIGN OUR PETITION TO THE FORT LAUDERDALE CITY COMMISSION TO: 1. STAND BY THE WORD OF THEIR PREDECESSORS AND CONTINUE TO PROTECT THE RAIN TREE FROM REMOVAL OR DAMAGE OR WORSE. 2. DENY the developer permission to transplant this tree and endanger its life and encourage the Developer if he must build to build to incorporate the Rain Tree as an integral part of his plans. 3. ENSURE that the tree is well protected during any construction that may take place at or near the site. 4. ENSURE THAT THE PROTECTION GRANTED THIS TREE IS HONORED. The City of Fort Lauderdale once had 36 Protected Trees. IT NOW HAS only 12 LEFT - AND IF THE RAIN TREE IS MOVED, DAMAGED AND ITS HOME AND SUSTENANCE NOT PROTECTED - WE MAY BE DOWN TO 11! THIS IS NOT PROTECTION!!! THE FORT LAUDERDALE RAIN TREE DESERVES THE PROTECTION IT HAS BEEN GRANTED. IT IS ONE OF THE LARGEST RAINTREES IN THE WORLD!

It's an outrage that developers continue to threaten the very last of Florida's natural wonders. An effort to save a similarly isolated, threatened species of Banyan tree in Lake Worth, FL was launched years ago, and succeeded. I climb that tree frequently. It is a precious gift, and an incredible piece of natural history. I'm so glad it was saved from senseless cutting, and I hope the Rain Tree continues to be for centuries to come.

I'm sick of our City Commission always giving what the developers want above and beyond what the residents want. Why do we keep electing these people. They don't care about we who live here and of course the developers take advantage of that. Have you ever been to Savannah? There's a city that protects its trees and the charm of that place is overwhelming. I wish our city commissioners had just a tiny bit of that insight. Who is it that these developers pay off to get what they want? Commissioners and the people who work in the various departments that support them? I'm surprised that they didn't declare the Rain Tree diseased. That's how they usually get around cutting down these beautiful trees and then they can earn their payoff from the developers honestly (lol). I've lived in Fort Lauderdale for 57 years and I feel the Commissioners are in bed with the developers and the people in the supporting departments are right in there with them. It's one big orgy for money. That's all they care about. Not you, not me, not anyone who has lived here any length of time and cares about what kind of place this is to live. Just money, money, everything is money.

I have been blessed to see this tree, the beauty and this is a perfect example of what is wrong with our country, do we need another greedy developer spoiling our land, it's shameful that this is even being considered, once again, in an area already blighted by foreclosed or vacant condos, we do not need more condos, we need more green space

It becomes obvious, when attending a planning commission meeting, that they do not have the best interests of the people in mind as they make decisions that negatively affect the city under the guise of actually knowing something. They have accepted a process of moving a tree in the interest of building a much unneeded development of short-sighted proportions. They, nor the commissioners, actually KNOW anything about what makes a city attractive and inviting.

I'm a former resident who visits Ft Lauderdale 4-5 times per year. This tree is a treasure. It broke my heart to see so many incredible trees destroyed after the hurricanes in 2005. And to think that now one with such history will be intentionally uprooted to build condos that will likely be an eyesore in 50 years -- it is a tragedy.

How can the local politicians even consider letting this tree die (which it will if moved) especially after we all saw happened to the trees from Smoker Park. Developers should be ashamed of themselves - and the City of Ft Lauderdale too for even considering allowing this atrocity!

I lived in Fort Lauderdale for 51 years and have seen many changes. This is a tree that should be appreciated and celebrated, not threatened in the name of progress. Do yourself, the city, and the planet a favor and stand by promises already made by the City Commission. Maybe the Commissioner(s) who vote for the removal of this tree, should take a trip to the local elementary schools and explain the value of a broken promise.

I am very much against the removal of this tree, of course it cannot survive transplanting! It's happy where it is. And has been for 90 yrs. NO CONDOMINIUM is worth moving this massive one of a kind tree. Tell the builders to put their condos where they want to move the tree!! That is the best idea. LEAVE THE TREE ALONE!!! It's one of America's wonders!! I first saw the tree, maybe 30 years ago while visiting FT. Lauderdale, I'd like to be able to see it again as I am sure many would too. It's a beautiful tree! This tree is protected; I can't see why this is even a concern. There should be no option to get rid of it, move it, or to otherwise alter the tree. Really, What's the point of protecting it in the first place if when it becomes inconvenient, removal becomes open for discussion. It's devoid of all integrity, and an injustice to those who invested their time, energy and money into protecting this tree in the first place, to even consider such a thing. Take your development elsewhere and Leave the tree alone. Thank you.

This beautiful, majestic tree should not be moved, altered or harmed in anyway. Cymbal Development consider themselves to be "holistic" developers. If that's true, then they will find a way to develop a new scaled-down "holistic" project with the whole rain tree as a focal point, intact, in the location it's grown for 80 to 90 years.

"Of concern to all! A tree is worth $193,250. According to Professor T.M.Das of the University of Calcutta. A tree living for 50 years will generate $31,250 worth of oxygen, provide $62,000 worth of air pollution control, control soil erosion and increase soil fertility to the tune of $31,250. Recycle $37,500 worth of water and provide a home for animals worth $31,250. This figure does not include the value of fruits, lumber or beauty derived from trees. Just another sensible reason to take care of our forests." It may not be an accurate calculation but it is just amazing how the tree's benefits were presented by that small billboard. It is a good reminder and a simple green solution that we could use on our way towards greener technology and solutions. Well, sometimes we need to be reminded of the obvious.

To cut down a beautiful historical tree in order to build more EMPTY condos no one needs or wants is a travesty. I will gladly join the fight to save this tree. This county does not need anymore housing that no one can afford to live in! SAVE the river the tree, the environment and integrity of our beautiful county!! If the new developer wants to proceed with the building of Marina Lofts, a massive series of buildings that are much too overwhelming for its currently planned location, then he must significantly adjust his current construction design strategy to ensure that the rain tree is incorporated as a integral part of the final architectural design of the planned project. The rain tree will NOT survive the transferal to the proposed new location and will most likely die shortly after it has been replanted. With all of the architectural talent that is being touted by the owner of the property on which Marina Lofts buildings will reside , it is extremely hard to believe that an architectural alternative cannot be designed in order to save this historic piece of nature.

I was born and raised in South Florida and you need to protect this tree. South Florida is over-developed and you don't need more condominiums, especially when it will destroy such a beautiful and historic landmark. Tell the developer if he wants to build in that spot, he is going to have to leave the tree where it's located and incorporate it into his plans Foreigners that are not established citizens are ruining the USA. They can buy just about anything and with enough money destroy your town as you once knew. Even our own citizens (developers) are doing the same. It is all our country and needs to be protected especially nature and the trees!

These days we are too quick to assess the value of things based solely on financial considerations. Please, see the inherent value, of this magnificent specimen, of a tree that only grows in your beautiful state! Surely there is advertising value and tourist dollars to be made by retaining the Rain Tree in it's current home. Moving it may irreparably damage it. Many far smaller plants don't survive the transplant process. This tree is unique to the Americas, and deserves to have the respect of Floridians over foreign investment! Thank you for your consideration.

The starchitect should definitely walk the talk, if he really wants to build architecture that is sustainable, incorporate the tree into the design as an asset. Mr. Ingels please make a statement by keeping the tree, and educate your client of the benefits this would bring. If they make this project LEED we should definitely reconsider what LEED stands for, and how are we letting all this nonsense happen. This is not just about one tree, this is about common sense and the future we are building.

DO NOT MOVE THIS TREE!!! It is a Fort Lauderdale staple! How many times have you seen this tree, be near it, take in the shade it provides ?? Not to mention how many animals use this as their home?! This would be a great shame to the people of Fort Lauderdale and Broward County! The city that is built, thriving and growing due to the people that live here, have to struggle to have their voices heard by some bigwig WHO DOESNT LIVE HERE AND ONLY WANTS TO MAKE A BUCK.... Something is wrong with this picture. Also if this tree is protected already how is this plan even an option still?? Also, not sure if this is true or not as I have not researched this as of yet, I thought I read somewhere as well this tree is protected by the Seminoles. Don't quote me on the last sentence, as I have not researched yet. But you bet I will!!! SAVE THIS TREE, AN ICON OF HISTORY IN FORT LAUDERDALE!!!

hi. Right now, I am looking to buy a house or condo in Florida, and I am looking at properties in two places -- in Ft. Lauderdale, and somewhere around St. Pete, like perhaps Gulfport. This tree is a natural wonder -- it provides oxygen for us to breathe, and a huge natural canopy of shade for us to relax under, so we can enjoy life in Florida. If you would seriously take a tree as magnificent as this, and chop it down -- well, you don't understand what people love about FLorida. If you continue to have bad judgment like this, and get rid of all the "old Florida" natural features . . . well, then, all your condos will be a lot cheaper then, because no one will want to live in condos without charm, under the sun beating down, in the remorseless South Florida sun. (By the way - this is already why I am even considering Gulfport -- because they still have some of that "old Florida charm" ;-) with trees and street markets and breathable environments that are fun to live in. Okay. If you keep this tree, I'll still consider Ft. Lauderdale. I have a brother who lives in Ft. Lauderdale already, so, really, I would love to live in your great city. But hey man -- we need TREES and GREEN!!! Please look up Singapore and study how that city invested money each year into "greening" itself, and now it is the most desired business city in Asia. okay -- thanks.

The city commission should honor its own 1987 commitment to protect this extraordinary tree. Failure to do so diminishes any commission statement on any issue, and reduces its word to mere lip service. Politicians with state-wide ambitions should want to be known for helping save the raintree, not caving in to whims of an out-of-town developer who scooped up a plot in foreclosure and tried to destroy a treasure.

Industrialization and development can never replace heritage nor the beauty and processes of our natural world. The rain tree deserves to be protected as this tree has served generations of people if buildings were to replace this natural treasure, eventually they will collapse and never be remembered. However, the rain tree has earned its place through time to continue to be remembered and enjoyed. Do not let profit influence a mindless and horrible decision.

A bit far fetched to talk about moving a tree of this size. Large trees have been transplanted in the past, but nothing quite this big. Moving this tree would set a new world record. Even if it could be done, it would likely cost over a million dollars and there's a good chance the trauma and damage to the root system would kill the tree. The fact that the developers even suggested such a ridiculous thing kind of destroys their credibility. I wouldn't let them build in the state of Florida much less on top of this natural landmark.

Trees this old should never be touched in a bad way...leave it alone and develop somewhere else or at least go around the tree. apart from having historical heritage it has sentimental value for your citizens. this makes people appreciate and care more for their environment. leave the tree alone let it grow and flourish and your state will too. cut it down or try to move it and your state will falter to..remember everything is connected and every action has a reaction...

Moving mature oaks in South FL. is rarely successful. They can root prune the tree for many months before the "dig" and they are still never the same and/or die. Just take a look at the Walmart being built next to my home in Davie at University Dr. and Griffin Rd. We fought this project for 6 years and came to some compromises but moving the existing oaks has resulted in some fairly dead looking oaks. Easy to see - they are on the berms along University Dr. as well as on Orange Drive around the corner. There were root pruned by what is considered the best co. in So. FL. and they look dead although I hope for the best. A mature oak should never be moved if it is supposed to be protected.

The roots of this rain tree most probably absorb water from the river. Yet here we are again man trying to destroy all our ancestors and pioneers of our great counties did in 1872. Developers only want to line their pockets with the money they will make of this land and also City Hall is to blame as YOUR county will make more money. Your actions are deplorable and insane. Save some history for the Children to come and see history. Shame on the Ft. Laud City commission, if this move is allowed. Thank you.

This tree deserves life, we all know what a building looks like, theres plenty of them in fort lauderdale. This is a beautiful tree and it has such a unique background. I think its important for cities and towns to have things like this because it gives them a sense of character, authenticity, and most importantly a sense of community. Sure buildings are useful and theres plenty of money to be made off them, but with that said, again this is fort lauderdale, theres plenty of buildings and money being made, after all fort lauderdale is in the top 10 tourist attracting cities in america. So I think we're blessed to have a tree with such a notable history in our city, because I believe having things like this for people to gather around brings us just a little closer to god and wholesome values, things we could all benefit from.

The Commissioners absolutely need to listen to the Arborists ,who are the real experts in this matter,rather than listening to the self centered,money hungry developers! It deeply saddens me to think that risking the life of this beautiful, old, majestic tree that 's (that is also PROTECTED!!!!!!) is even a consideration! What are you thinking,commissioners? Oh yeah, money! The root of all evil! We need green spaces,NOT more condos! I think that the commissioners need to RE consider, and make the right, decision,which is to keep this beautiful old tree right where it stands!

With the coming of 40,000 additional bodies to Ft. Lauderdale. We need all the green & shade we can protect. Let the developer build elsewhere. Obviously you do not value your predecessors 1987 Law. Lobbyist or Party before Nation?...You're Fired! We watch how you vote.

I am a capitalist at heart and believe in the progress of humanity, however, I do not believe the progress of our species needs to go so far as to forget our heritage and toss aside the beauty of nature. Already humanity has gone to great lengths to further modernize the world for the sake of our growing population at the expense of national parks, monuments, and sanctuaries. If we cannot learn to live side by side with nature or keep our contracts sacred then I fear we will not only lose the very foundations of integrity that our nation has been founded on but also we may just lose our planet as we know it. As I said before I believe in the spirit of industry and entrepreneurship and am not a nature activist, but on this occasion in this instance I felt the need to speak out against a great travesty and attempt to get the people of this city and state to take a moment and think before they look back with regret and the splendor and majesty of this arboreal wonder is forever lost to future generations. Thank you.

I am a former resident of Ft. Lauderdale now in New Orleans, a city rich in history and heritage. The city of N.O. embraces its culture as it is the very life and energy of the city. History is very important to any city or culture and for a city such as F.L. which very little historic heritage to let go of this tree is a travesty to the city, it's citizens and especially it's children. PROTECTED - Should mean PROTECTED. Include it in the plans or scrap the plans! There should be no question of the future of this tree - it should be left to live in peace exactly where it is where it can thrive. Some things are PRICELESS. The Rain Tree is one of these things. City Commission shame on you for not making it an historical tree and passing the buck. Good luck on reelection if this tree goes down the road!

A true arborist knows that the root system of every tree extends far beyond the farthest edge of the canopy. Let's say you are at the farthest edge of the canopy and you can drop a plumb line (straight vertical line to the ground) that is the beginning of the essential feeder roots which accumulate the water from rain which does not reach the roots through the leaves of the canopy. From that point in the ground, take the highest measurement of the treetop (height of canopy) and walk that distance outward for that many feet,, those are the roots which draw the rain water or irrigated water most fully and it is another 40' beyond that spt, in every direction where the roots can be safely disturbed to loosen the tree to move it causing the least amount of harm to the tree itself and the prevention of loss of dynamic roots and feeding system of the tree. Removing a tree of this size would basically require digging up the entire current

As a professor at FAU and a Fort Lauderdale resident I demand, for the sake of historical and ecological preservation, that the developer leave the tree unharmed in its current location. Our city has lost enough of its culture to development. Savvy developers should seek to incorporate such treasures into their plans and see them as a asset to their properties and the community.

I grew up seeing all these BS condo's spring up with no inhabitants. IF THE CITY CARES ABOUT A TREASURE AND NOT SOME GREEDY CONDO BUILDER THAT WILL ULTIMATELY LOSE HIS BUSINESS BECAUSE THERE IS NO MARKET, THEN THEY WILL KEEP THEIR WORD AND LET THE TREE AND THE LAND ALONE!

PETITION TO SAVE THE RAIN TREE

5/8/03
WHEREAS Fort Lauderdale's magnificent Rain Tree is a national treasure — perhaps the largest tree of its kind in the continental United States, and

WHEREAS the tree was declared a Florida Champion in 1982 for being the largest of its kind in the state, and

WHEREAS the Fort Lauderdale City Commission declared the Rain Tree protected from removal or damage in 1987 because it is "worth preserving and protecting for the future enjoyment and benefit of the City's citizens," and

WHEREAS it is a stunningly beautiful tree that can only be fully appreciated by standing directly under its giant crown, and

WHEREAS the developers of Marina Lofts would endanger the giant tree by transplanting it to a too-small lot next to a warehouse, and

WHEREAS the City experts who say the tree will survive such a move are not experts being paid by the developer ...

WE THEREFORE URGE the Fort Lauderdale City Commission to:

- 1) Stand by the word of your predecessors and DENY the developer permission to transplant the tree, and
- 2) Require the developer to make the tree an integral part of his building project.
- 3) Require that the tree is well protected during any construction that may take place at the new site.

About the Rain Tree

LOCATION: 424 SW 4th Ave. — a 160-foot-wide lot on the south side of New River opposite the Historic District and Riverwalk.

AGE: 80 to 90 years old. Believed to have been planted by city pioneers.

SIZE: Height: 61 ft; crown diameter: 127.5 ft — 16th largest in Florida ; girth of trunk: 19.5 ft.

WORLD'S LARGEST: Rain trees have the largest tree crown diameters on Earth, according to About.com/ Forestry. They can exceed 200 feet.

MARINA LOFTS' PLAN: Transplant the 127-foot-wide tree to a 90-foot-wide lot next to a warehouse.

PREVIOUS DEVELOPER'S PLAN ... NO TRANSPLANT: After a year of study, he decided it was best to leave the tree where it is!

LARGEST TREE EVER TRANSPLANTED: "Old Glory," a California oak that was 23.5 feet narrower, 3 feet shorter, with a trunk girth 3 feet 4 inches smaller than our Rain Tree. (Source: Guinness Book of World Records)

MOVIE STAR: A 200-foot-wide rain tree was featured in Disney's "Swiss Family Robinson."

PETITION TO SAVE THE RAIN TREE

WHEREAS Fort Lauderdale's magnificent Rain Tree is a national treasure — perhaps the largest tree of its kind in the continental United States, and

WHEREAS the tree was declared a Florida Champion in 1982 for being the largest of its kind in the state, and

WHEREAS the Fort Lauderdale City Commission declared the Rain Tree "protected" against removal or damage in 1987 because it is "worth preserving and protecting for the future enjoyment and benefit of the City's citizens," and

WHEREAS it is a stunningly beautiful tree that can only be fully appreciated by standing directly under its giant crown, and

WHEREAS the developers of Marina Lofts would endanger the giant tree by transplanting it in a too-small lot next to a warehouse, and

WHEREAS the only experts who say the tree will survive such a move are the experts being paid by the developer ...

WE THEREFORE URGE the Fort Lauderdale City Commission to:

- 1) Stand by the word of your predecessors and DENY the developer permission to transplant the tree, and
- 2) Encourage the developer to make the tree an integral part of his building plans, and
- 3) Ensure that the tree is well protected during any construction that may take place at or near that site.

About the Rain Tree

LOCATION: 424 SW 4th Ave. — a 160-foot-wide lot on the south side of New River opposite the Historic District and Riverwalk.

AGE: 80 to 90 years old. Believed to have been planted by city pioneers.

SIZE: Height: 61 ft; crown diameter: 127.5 ft — 16th largest in Florida; girth of trunk: 19.5 ft.

WORLD'S LARGEST: Rain trees have the largest tree crown diameters on Earth, according to About.com/Forestry. They can exceed 200 feet.

MARINA LOFTS' PLAN: Transplant the 127-foot-wide tree to a 90-foot-wide lot next to a warehouse.

PREVIOUS DEVELOPER'S PLAN ... NO TRANSPLANT: After a year of study, he decided it was best to leave the tree where it is!

LARGEST TREE EVER TRANSPLANTED: "Old Glory," a California oak that was 23.5 feet narrower, 3 feet shorter, with a trunk girth 3 feet 4 inches smaller than our Rain Tree. (Source: Guinness Book of World Records)

MOVIE STAR: A 200-foot-wide rain tree was featured in Disney's "Swiss Family Robinson."

PETITION TO SAVE THE RAIN TREE

WHEREAS Fort Lauderdale's magnificent Rain Tree is a national treasure — perhaps the largest tree of its kind in the continental United States, and

WHEREAS the tree was declared a Florida Champion in 1982 for being the largest of its kind in the state, and

WHEREAS the Fort Lauderdale City Commission declared the Rain Tree "protected" against removal or damage in 1987 because it is "worth preserving and protecting for the future enjoyment and benefit of the City's citizens," and

WHEREAS it is a stunningly beautiful tree that can only be fully appreciated by standing directly under its giant crown, and

WHEREAS the developers of Marina Lofts would endanger the giant tree by transplanting it in a too-small lot next to a warehouse, and

WHEREAS the only experts who say the tree will survive such a move are the experts being paid by the developer ...

WE THEREFORE URGE the Fort Lauderdale City Commission to:

- 1) Stand by the word of your predecessors and DENY the developer permission to transplant the tree, and
- 2) Encourage the developer to make the tree an integral part of his building plans, and
- 3) Ensure that the tree is well protected during any construction that may take place at or near that site.

About the Rain Tree

LOCATION: 424 SW 4th Ave. — a 160-foot-wide lot on the south side of New River opposite the Historic District and Riverwalk.

AGE: 80 to 90 years old. Believed to have been planted by city pioneers.

SIZE: Height: 61 ft; crown diameter: 127.5 ft — 16th largest in Florida; girth of trunk: 19.5 ft.

WORLD'S LARGEST: Rain trees have the largest tree crown diameters on Earth, according to About.com/Forestry. They can exceed 200 feet.

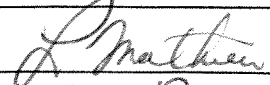

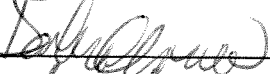

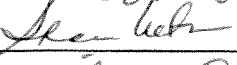

MARINA LOFTS' PLAN: Transplant the 127-foot-wide tree to a 90-foot-wide lot next to a warehouse.

PREVIOUS DEVELOPER'S PLAN ... NO TRANSPLANT: After a year of study, he decided it was best to leave the tree where it is!

PETITION TO SAVE THE RAIN TREE

WHEN the Rain Tree is a national treasure — per the City of Fort Lauderdale, and
WHEN the Rain Tree was declared the Rain Tree "because it is "worth preserved because of the City's citizen benefit of the City's
WHEN the Rain Tree only be fully appreciated, and
WHEN the Rain Tree danger the giant tree by transplant use, and
WHEN the Rain Tree survive such a move
are the experts being paid by the developer ...

*Hi Jessica, 3/20/13
hope these signatures are still useful.
That debate will go on, hopefully!
Let's pray for the tree. Maura*

About the Rain Tree

LOCATION: 424 SW 4th Ave. — a 160-foot-wide lot on the south side of New River opposite the Historic District and Riverwalk.

AGE: 80 to 90 years old. Believed to have been planted by city pioneers.

SIZE: Height: 61 ft; crown diameter: 127.5 ft — 16th largest in Florida; girth of trunk: 19.5 ft.

WORLD'S LARGEST: Rain trees have the largest tree crown diameters on Earth, according to About.com/Forestry. They can exceed 200 feet.

MARINA LOFTS' PLAN: Transplant the 127-foot-wide tree to a 90-foot-wide lot next to a warehouse.

PREVIOUS DEVELOPER'S PLAN
... NO TRANSPLANT: After a year of study, he decided it was best to leave the tree where it is!

LARGEST TREE EVER TRANSPLANTED: "Old Glory," a California oak that was 23.5 feet narrower, 3 feet shorter, with a trunk girth 3 feet 4 inches smaller than our Rain Tree. (Source: Guinness Book of World Records)

MOVIE STAR: A 200-foot-wide rain tree was featured in Disney's "Swiss Family Robinson."

WE THEREFORE URGE the Fort Lauderdale City Commission to:

- 1) Stand by the word of your predecessors and DENY the developer permission to transplant the tree, and
- 2) Encourage the developer to make the tree an integral part of his building plans, and
- 3) Ensure that the tree is well protected during any construction that may take place at or near that site.

PETITION TO SAVE THE RAIN TREE

WHEREAS Fort Lauderdale's magnificent Rain Tree is a national treasure — perhaps the largest tree of its kind in the continental United States, and

WHEREAS the tree was declared a Florida Champion in 1982 for being the largest of its kind in the state, and

WHEREAS the Fort Lauderdale City Commission declared the Rain Tree "protected" against removal or damage in 1987 because it is "worth preserving and protecting for the future enjoyment and benefit of the City's citizens," and

WHEREAS it is a stunningly beautiful tree that can only be fully appreciated by standing directly under its giant crown, and

WHEREAS the developers of Marina Lofts would endanger the giant tree by transplanting it in a too-small lot next to a warehouse, and

WHEREAS the only experts who say the tree will survive such a move are the experts being paid by the developer ...

WE THEREFORE URGE the Fort Lauderdale City Commission to:

- 1) Stand by the word of your predecessors and DENY the developer permission to transplant the tree, and
- 2) Encourage the developer to make the tree an integral part of his building plans, and
- 3) Ensure that the tree is well protected during any construction that may take place at or near that site.

About the Rain Tree

LOCATION: 424 SW 4th Ave. — a 160-foot-wide lot on the south side of New River opposite the Historic District and Riverwalk.

AGE: 80 to 90 years old. Believed to have been planted by city pioneers.

SIZE: Height: 61 ft; crown diameter: 127.5 ft — 16th largest in Florida; girth of trunk: 19.5 ft.

WORLD'S LARGEST: Rain trees have the largest tree crown diameters on Earth, according to About.com/Forestry. They can exceed 200 feet.

MARINA LOFTS' PLAN: Transplant the 127-foot-wide tree to a 90-foot-wide lot next to a warehouse.

PREVIOUS DEVELOPER'S PLAN
... NO TRANSPLANT: After a year of study, he decided it was best to leave the tree where it is!

LARGEST TREE EVER TRANSPLANTED: "Old Glory," a California oak that was 23.5 feet narrower, 3 feet shorter, with a trunk girth 3 feet 4 inches smaller than our Rain Tree. (Source: Guinness Book of World Records)

MOVIE STAR: A 200-foot-wide rain tree was featured in Disney's "Swiss Family Robinson."

CITY TO SAVE THE RAIN

3.22.2013

Jessica - Thank you for doing this! I hope its not too late!

Carolann

WHEREAS Fort Lauderdale's magnificent Rain Tree is a national — perhaps the largest tree of its kind in the continental United States, and

WHEREAS the tree was declared a Florida Champion in 1982 for being the largest of its kind in the state, and

WHEREAS the Fort Lauderdale City Commission declared the Rain Tree "protected" against removal or damage in 1987 because it is "worth preserving and protecting for the future enjoyment and benefit of the City's citizens," and

WHEREAS it is a stunningly beautiful tree that can only be fully appreciated by standing directly under its giant crown, and

WHEREAS the developers of Marina Lofts would endanger the giant tree by transplanting it in a too-small lot next to a warehouse, and

WHEREAS the only experts who say the tree will survive such a move are the experts being paid by the developer ...

WE THEREFORE URGE the Fort Lauderdale City Commission to:

- 1) Stand by the word of your predecessors and DENY the developer permission to transplant the tree, and
- 2) Encourage the developer to make the tree an integral part of his building plans, and
- 3) Ensure that the tree is well protected during any construction that may take place at or near that site.

200-foot-wide lot on the south side of New River opposite the Historic District and Riverwalk.

AGE: 80 to 90 years old. Believed to have been planted by city pioneers.

SIZE: Height: 61 ft; crown diameter:
 127.5 ft — 16th largest in Florida ;
 girth of trunk: 19.5 ft.

WORLD'S LARGEST: Rain trees have the largest tree crown diameters on Earth, according to About.com/
 Forestry. They can exceed 200 feet.

MARINA LOFTS' PLAN: Transplant
 the 127-foot-wide tree to a 90-foot-wide lot next to a warehouse.

PREVIOUS DEVELOPER'S PLAN
... NO TRANSPLANT: After a year of study, he decided it was best to leave the tree where it is!

LARGEST TREE EVER
TRANSPLANTED: "Old Glory,"
 a California oak that was 23.5 feet narrower, 3 feet shorter, with a trunk girth 3 feet 4 inches smaller than our Rain Tree. (Source: Guinness Book of World Records)

MOVIE STAR: A 200-foot-wide rain tree was featured in Disney's "Swiss Family Robinson."

SAVE THE RAIN TREE

WHEREAS Fort Lauderdale — perhaps the largest tree

WHEREAS the tree was the largest of its kind in the

WHEREAS the Fort Lauderdale Tree “protected” against removal or damage in 1987 because it is “worth preserving and protecting for the future of our citizens,” and

WHEREAS it is a stunningly beautiful tree appreciated by standing directly under it

WHEREAS the developers of Marina Lauder by transplanting it in a too-small lot next to a warehouse

WHEREAS the only experts who say the tree is an asset to his development! are the experts being paid by the developer

WE THEREFORE URGE the Fort Lauderdale City Commission to:

- 1) Stand by the word of your predecessors and deny permission to transplant the tree, and
- 2) Encourage the developer to make the tree a centerpiece in his plans, and
- 3) Ensure that the tree is well protected during any construction that may take place at or near that site.

About the Rain Tree

LOCATION: 424 SW 4th Ave. — a 160-foot-wide lot on the south side of New River opposite the Historic District and Riverwalk.

AGE: 80 to 90 years old. Believed to have been planted by city pioneers.

PETITION TO SAVE THE RAIN TREE

WHEREAS Fort Lauderdale's magnificent Rain Tree is a national treasure — perhaps the largest tree of its kind in the continental United States, and

WHEREAS the tree was declared a Florida Champion in 1982 for being the largest of its kind in the state, and

WHEREAS the Fort Lauderdale City Commission declared the Rain Tree "protected" against removal or damage in 1987 because it is "worth preserving and protecting for the future enjoyment and benefit of the City's citizens," and

WHEREAS it is a stunningly beautiful tree that can only be fully appreciated by standing directly under its giant crown, and

WHEREAS the developers of Marina Lofts would endanger the giant tree by transplanting it in a too-small lot next to a warehouse, and

WHEREAS the only experts who say the tree will survive such a move are the experts being paid by the developer ...

WE THEREFORE URGE the Fort Lauderdale City Commission to:

- 1) Stand by the word of your predecessors and DENY the developer permission to transplant the tree, and
- 2) Encourage the developer to make the tree an integral part of his building plans, and
- 3) Ensure that the tree is well protected during any construction that may take place at or near that site.

About the Rain Tree

LOCATION: 424 SW 4th Ave. — a 160-foot-wide lot on the south side of New River opposite the Historic District and Riverwalk.

AGE: 80 to 90 years old. Believed to have been planted by city pioneers.

SIZE: Height: 61 ft; crown diameter: 127.5 ft — 16th largest in Florida; girth of trunk: 19.5 ft.

WORLD'S LARGEST: Rain trees have the largest tree crown diameters on Earth, according to About.com/Forestry. They can exceed 200 feet.

MARINA LOFTS' PLAN: Transplant the 127-foot-wide tree to a 90-foot-wide lot next to a warehouse.

PREVIOUS DEVELOPER'S PLAN ... NO TRANSPLANT: After a year of study, he decided it was best to leave the tree where it is!

LARGEST TREE EVER TRANSPLANTED: "Old Glory," a California oak that was 23.5 feet narrower, 3 feet shorter, with a trunk girth 3 feet 4 inches smaller than our Rain Tree. (Source: Guinness Book of World Records)
