COVID-19 Impact: During FY 2020, contracted partner agencies experienced either a delay or altogether cessation of services due to COVID-19. Each agency that continued service provision experienced an increase in program expenses associated with adapting to CDC guidelines for COVID-19 (e.g., PPE and other expenses to ensure social distancing).

The following highlights the impact of COVID-19 on service provision:

Hope South Florida, Family Day Respite: Due to COVID-19, Day Respite services were suspended at the end of the 2nd quarter (March 2020) out of an abundance of caution for staff and residents. Day Respite services did not restart until October 19, 2020 – and at minimum capacity to ensure social distancing.

Memorial Healthcare System, Community Court: Due to COVID-19 there was a decrease in referrals received. Community Court referrals ceased altogether at the beginning of the 3rd Quarter (April 2020).

Showering with Love, Community Court: Due to COVID-19 an administrative order 2020-23-Temp the court was closed on March 13th. On April 2nd the provider discontinued services due to safety concerns.

Salvation Army, Rapid Rehousing Program: The Salvation Army did not bill for the first two quarters of the fiscal year (October – March 2020) due to staff recruitment and onboarding. For the third quarter (April – June 2020), program enrollment was postponed as the agency worked to identify innovative strategies for providing services during the height of COVID-19.

Despite COVID-19, most of the contracted agencies demonstrated an ability and willingness to continue services. Additionally, several programs maintained their client goals. Each agency continues to provide homeless individual and families in the City of Ft. Lauderdale with hope and compassion in a time that has been troubling and confusing for even those with stable housing.

Success Stories

Raphaela

Although this year has been a tough one for all, Raphaela and her young son are finishing the year in a better situation because of the United Way Rapid Rehousing Program at BHS. Once her and her son were able to have the stability and safety of a home, Raphaela was able to work with the RRH Case Manager to establish her short- and long-term goals and together they focused on the steps needed to accomplish them. Raphaela was connected to a doctor who reassessed her medication and got her on a new regiment that better addressed her needs allowing her to discontinue her 'self-medication' with other substances. She was connected to a therapist who she really connected with and she reported gaining new skills and coping tools that helped her to stay focused on her goals. Soon she enrolled back in school and has completed a training course allowing her to be certified as a security guard and is actively seeking employment in that field. She did get employed in a seasonal position while finishing school and is happily working right now. She is so appreciative of the assistance provided to her in her time of need. She now has a better foundation on which to build a better future for her and her son.

Daniel

Daniel entered the Rapid Rehousing Program shortly after returning to Broward County following a stay in a mental health hospital where he was being treated for multiple conditions. Daniel was living in his car at the time. Due to the stress of the pandemic and his mental health conditions, Daniel was struggling to do his housing search. He had trouble with meeting landlords and looking at housing in person due to fear of the virus which was heightened due to his mental health. Over the course of his housing search, with the help of his mental health team and case manager, he was able to work past his fears and find stable housing. Since moving into housing Daniel has thrived. He was able to complete an intensive outpatient mental health program, which greatly helped his ability to live his day-to-day life. His overall health improved once he moved into housing as well. Daniel has made a habit to take daily walks and prepare healthy meals for himself. Since moving into housing Daniel has worked on building his savings and decreasing his debts. He also was able to get food stamps. Now Daniel is looking forward to keep improving his mental and physical health. He aspires to start working once again and to be an advocate for the de-stigmatization of mental health conditions.

Anthony

Anthony, his partner Jennifer, and their infant son entered the Rapid Rehousing Program following Anthony's treatment in a rehab center. He was committed to living a clean life and being reunited with his partner and child. While searching for their housing, they were in a car accident. Thankfully everyone was safe, but their vehicle was in need of extensive and expensive repairs. This was a big setback for their housing search and left Jennifer unable to do her job as a delivery person. They didn't let that keep them back and Anthony and Jennifer were able to find housing shortly after. Their family was now back together finally. Since moving into housing they were able to save up enough money and were able to fix their vehicle. Jennifer was able to start working again as well. Now Jennifer works only on days Anthony is home and she is able to stay home full time with their son. Anthony is still sober and has a stable job. Anthony and Jennifer have continued to grow their savings. They just spent their first Christmas all together as a family in their new home.

Karen

When Karen and her daughter Melissa entered the program, they were fleeing domestic violence and living in their car. Karen was living with her boyfriend, who had been abusive toward her, but she was not ready to leave. At this time, her daughter had already moved out and was living on her own. Then Melissa had a mental health crisis and was hospitalized. She was later diagnosed with schizophrenia and moved in with her mother and Karen's boyfriend once she was released from the hospital, Melissa moved in and the abuse escalated. Karen's boyfriend kicked them out of the home.

Homeless, Karen focused on finding stable housing for herself and daughter. Determined to find housing, they were referred to and accepted into the UW-TSA RRH program. Melissa struggled with the instability and her mental health symptoms. Karen was also not doing well; she was having multiple health issues and was later diagnosed with Lupus. She worked hard to find housing. Karen was supporting her and her daughter on the income from a call center where she was working. Neither of them had health insurance so almost all of their money was going to doctors' visits and medications.

Karen was able to locate a studio to share and moved in August 2020. Since they have moved in to their own apartment, they have continued to improve their situation. Karen and Melissa worked together with their doctors to get their health back on track. Karen was able to access health insurance through her job. Melissa was able to obtain Medicaid, which alleviated much of their financial strain caused by their medical issues. Karen began treatment and was able to get on a Lupus diet since she had her own kitchen to prepare food. Melissa has thrived with the stability of having a home again. She was less stressed and was able to work with doctors to find the best combination of medications, so her symptoms are kept to a minimum. Melissa received assistance from a community resource to apply for SSDI and now is receiving monthly support which is helping considerably with monthly bills.

Karen and Melissa have only been in housing for three months but the progress they have both made, with the help of the Rapid Rehousing Program, has been enormous. They are happier and healthier than they were before. Karen has gained a sense of independence that she didn't have with her boyfriend. Melissa is working on finding a part-time job now that her symptoms have become manageable. Also, Karen is able to work more hours now, and is looking for a second job to help save more so at the end of the program to move into a bigger apartment for the two of them.

Projected Activities and Support for FY 2021

UWBC/BBCH will continue to work toward eradicating homeless in the City of Ft. Lauderdale by providing housing supports to identified homeless persons who are living on the sidewalk surrounding Stranahan Park in the downtown corridor. It has been estimated that there are approximately 15 individuals. In FY 2021, UWBC/BBCH will continue with a “Housing First” program with the added component of more intensive case management services for up to 24 months with the goal of ensuring long term stable housing and self-sufficiency. In addition, UWBC/BBCH will execute two new contracts with HOPE South Florida to continue providing day respite and meal sharing services.

United Way of Broward County is appreciative of the relationship and financial support provided by the City of Ft. Lauderdale, the City Commission, and City Staff who have supported our efforts. We look forward to continuing the work in meeting our common goal of ensuring an end to homelessness in Broward County. Our efforts at the Stranahan Park encampment will provide a safety net with the goal of assisting individuals and families in reaching a peak level of housing security, self-sufficiency and sense of wellbeing. UWBC believes that building a stronger, long-term support system, residents will be better positioned to move on to a pathway of success, of which the entire community benefits...their success, is our community's success.
